Haley pushes revamp vote, Burnette calls for more time

by GLORIA DAVIS

A special meeting between Dist. 34 Supt. Donald Skidmore, Dist. 34 Board of Education President Ed Haley, members of the reorganization subcommittees, parents and the Antioch News Reporter was held on Monday, in an effort to disseminate information on all factions involved in the proposed reorganization of the school district to district residents.

Haley and Gary Burnette, on subcommittee for Antioch Lower Grade School, did most of the talking with some input given by others present.

It actually boiled down to Haley saying that he thought the time spent by the subcommittees in investigating 30 reorganizational proposals and helping to narrow them down to a final five, the information gotten from the committees, plus the input the board members have gotten from hearing with parents present, gave the board a broad enough base of information on which to make an intelligent decision on the reorganization at the April 26 meeting.

Burnette repeated that he felt that other taxpayers in the community needed to be reached, maybe by a large public meeting, and not just the 25 percent of parents of children attending schools in the district.

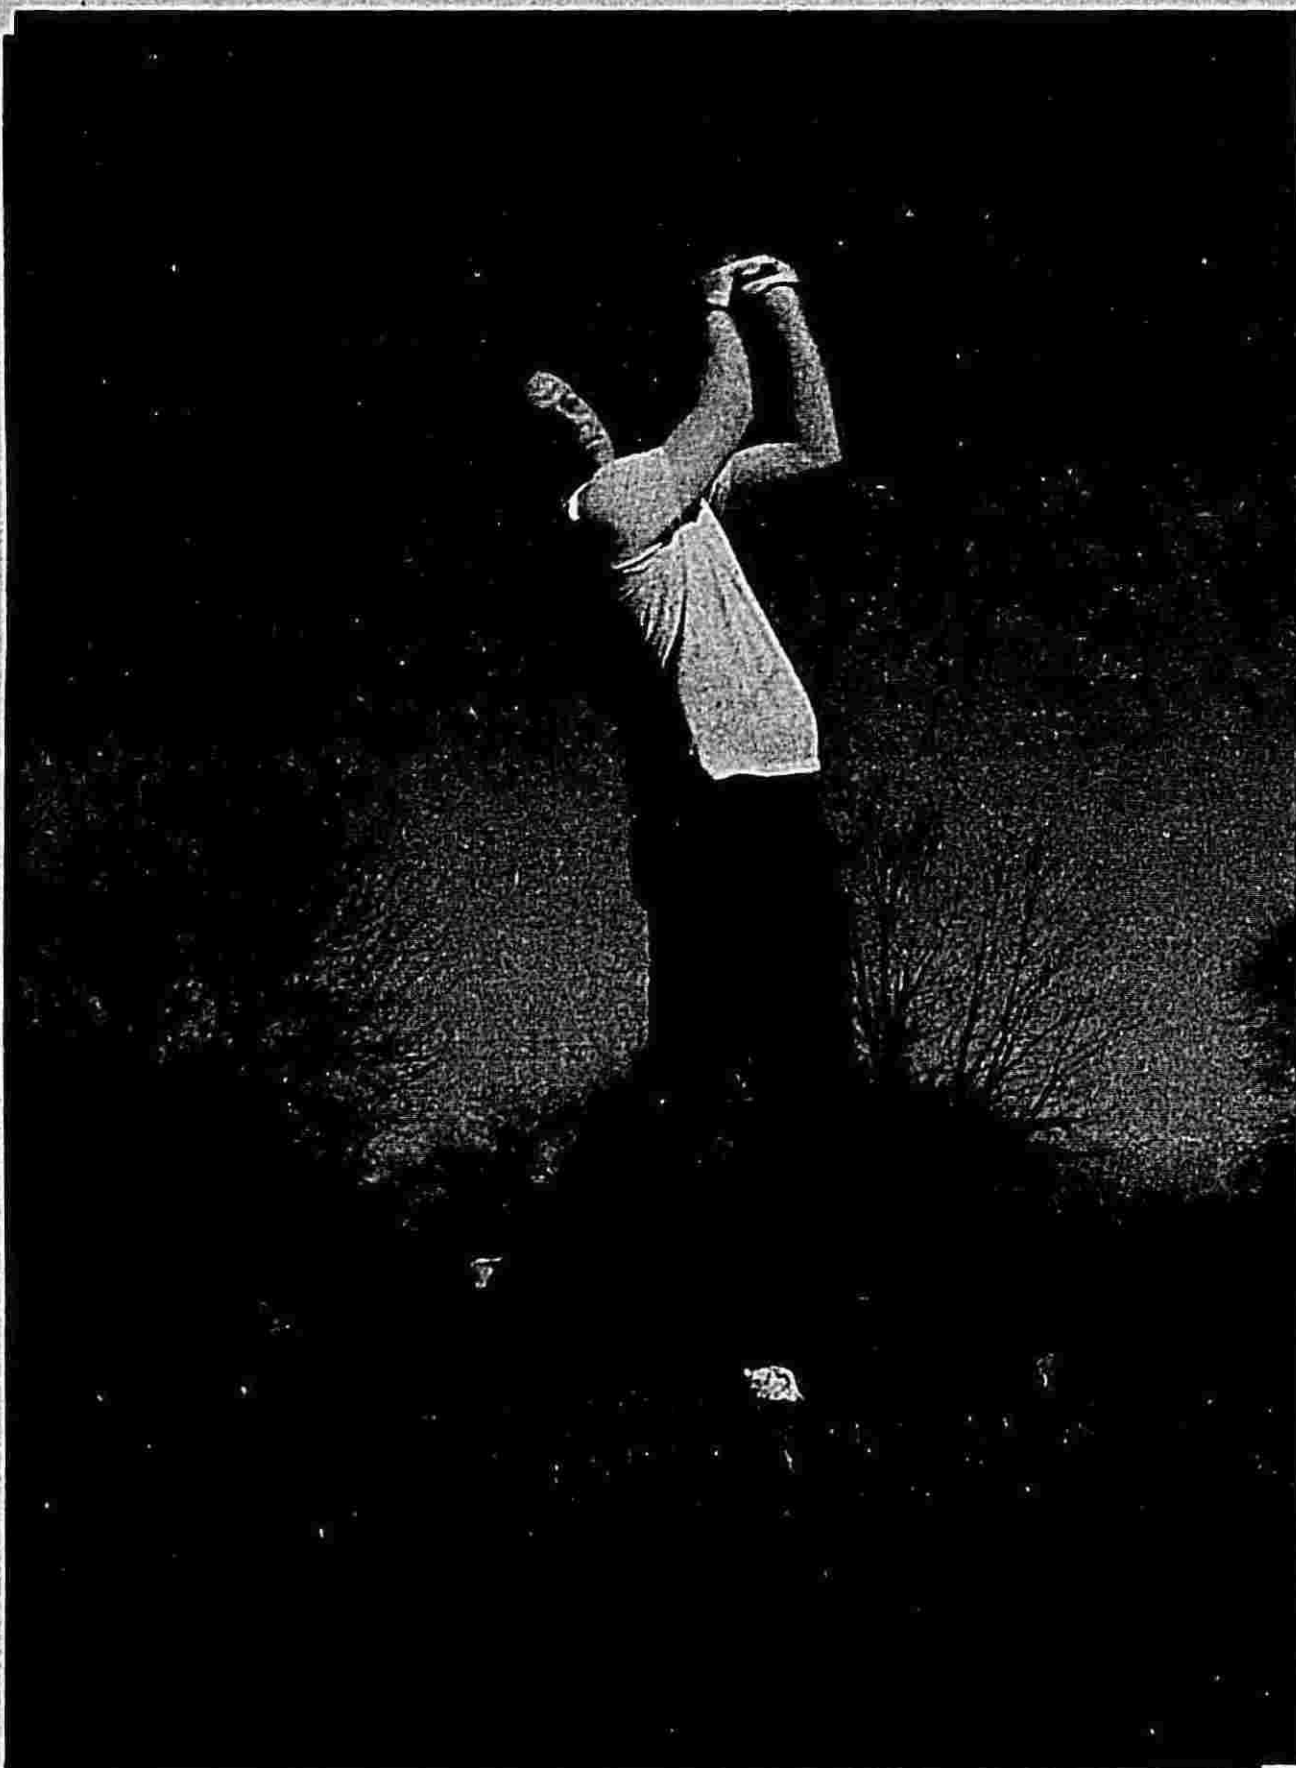

Parents again brought up the emotional upheaval the children might suffer when they are forced to change schools more often. One parent mentioned the present first grade which would be changing schools next year under some of the proposals and again when they reach fourth and then again in sixth grade.

Haley said that the board appreciated any trauma the redistricting might bring to the children and their families. He added that he believed the board would do its best to weigh these factors along with financial and educational ones before making a decision.

Haley said, "It's to be expected that there will be disruption the first year, but when the smoke clears, the district and the students will be better for the redistricting."

There were parents present that complained about the board first saying

Serve Toft on mailing lawsuit

Antioch's Mayor Ray Toft was served with papers last week officially informing him that he is being sued by Antioch Atty. Robert Long in the name of the Village of Antioch for using a village mailing permit to mail 7,000 letters endorsing Jim Fields and Fred Popp for the Lake County Board.

Although the lawsuit was filed early in March, Toft was not served with papers until last week because he has been in Florida on vacation.

Toft has turned the entire matter over to his attorney. He reiterates that when he left for Florida he had no idea how the endorsements would go out.

Norman Biller, owner of Biller Press, printers of the letters, has taken full responsibility for using the village permit "by mistake." Biller often mails out village business using the same permit.

"If they were going to use a permit they could and should have used my personal one that I use for the race track," said Toft.

Toft adds, "Anyway the whole thing didn't cost the village a cent, I paid the entire mailing bill."

Village sets hydrant flush starts April 24

The Village of Antioch's Water Dept. will be flushing hydrants for two weeks between the hours of 11 p.m. and 5 a.m., Monday through Friday, starting on April 24.

The first week, the area west of Main St. will be flushed and the second week, the area east of Main St. will be flushed until the project is completed.

95-mph chase has car leaping walls

by GLORIA DAVIS

Antioch Police Officers Mike Kulat, Robert Lang and Ron Kay must have thought that Evil Knievel was in town early Sunday morning when they took up a high speed chase that included an airborne car flying over cement walls, at one point straddling the wall for 145 feet.

At 1:30 a.m., Kay started after a car at Bowles Rd. and Rte. 59, headed north on Rte. 59, reaching speeds in excess of 95 mph.

After the daredevil pursuit, Philip McCue, 35, itinerant resident of Antioch and Wisconsin, was arrested following a scuffle with the Officer Lang.

During the pursuit, the car went into the southbound lane, barely missed one car, ran a stop sign, went over the cement walls near the phone company on Lake and Hillside, tearing utility lines down, finally leaping the wall near the Globe Dept. Store in Antioch Shopping Plaza, traveling down the wall.

McCue has been charged with DUI, speeding, driving the wrong way on a one way street, fleeing and eluding, battery to a police officer, running a stop sign, failure to yield, two charges of criminal damage to property, reckless driving, driving on a revoked driver's license, failure to yield to an emergency vehicle and finally, driving without a seat belt in place.

Fever is probably the most common childhood symptom which prompts a call to a physician. Fever is not a disease but a sign of a possible illness, usually secondary to infection. Normal body temperature is 97.5° to 99° Fahrenheit. Temperature is lowest in the morning after waking up and then rises one to two degrees toward the afternoon. This is called diurnal variation. Children less than six months old, however, usually do not follow this pattern.

Most parents become alarmed when a child develops a high temperature, especially when the fever is accompanied by convulsions; a condition which is called febrile seizure. Fever is not a disease, and convulsions are not a disease. A direct correlation between the height of the fever and severity of illness does not exist.

Parents, if you notice a symptom which you cannot explain or understand, help is only a phone call away.

For more information about fevers or other childhood illnesses, please call the Meritree Medical Center in Antioch, 312/395-0085.

The new jail, which is scheduled for completion later this summer, will also house four courtrooms and will be a state-of-the-art facility with exercise rooms and common areas for prisoners.

False alarms are dropping

This has been a banner month at the new Lindenhurst branch of State Bank of Antioch, 2031 E. Grand Ave. It is more than the grand opening, which began in February and will continue until May.

It is the lack of false alarms. There hasn't been a single one this month. In February and March there were 10.

This week the village board agreed to waive the customary $20 per occurrence charge for the 10 alarms. It blamed them on new employees and a new facility.

But the village isn't so sure about future false alarms. Village Administrator Jim Stevens explained a false alarm means more than a squad car with officer responding. "The officer often needs a backup," Stevens said. "The alarm takes him away from other calls and, when he arrives, he has to be ready for any situation from a holdup to an armed robbery. It's more of a nuisance."

From Russia with love

Last year's fourth graders at Grass Lake Grade School wrote letters to students in Soviet Union through United Nations' Kids Meeting Kids Make a Difference program. It took until spring of their fifth grade in Ms. Boesdorfer's class this year to receive answers. Some of letters were written in English, others in Russian, which had to be translated. Many of letters came from same place in Russia and some were duplicate letters with different student's signatures. Reading letters are, standing, Adam Marsala, Chris Haling, Laura Edelman, Josh Flemming and David LaForge. Arrest 17-year-old for trash of teacher's home

by GLORIA DAVIS

The arrest of one Lake Villa youth for damaging mailboxes, led not only to a partner in that crime, but to the solving of the $10,000 in criminal damages done to Antioch High School teacher Steve Scott's house in early March.

There were three items valued at $300 that were stolen during the vandalism that only Scott and the police knew about.

The youth that was arrested for damaging mailboxes told police who had sold items matching the description of ones stolen from the Scott house.

So after a month-long intensive investigation, Lake County Sheriff's Det. John Sherin and Det. Kevin Maki arrested Kirk H. Sperling, 17, a neighbor of the Scott's in Lake Villa.

Sperling had been an early suspect but was discounted because Scott had had no trouble with him and there seemed to be no motive.

Sperling confessed both crimes to the police and the missing items, that included stereo equipment, were recovered.

Sperling was charged with the residential burglary and criminal property damage of Scott's home and also damage to property under $300 concerning the mailbox damage done in the Fox Lake Hills subdivision.

He was taken to Lake County jail where bond was set at $5,000.

The damage done to the Antioch High School teacher's home, when he and his family were visiting friends on March 7, was so extensive that the family had to move out until structural damage was corrected. Contents were smashed, holes were gouged into the walls and garbage, etc. was stepped into the carpeting which was destroyed.

Remand Venema to 6-months in county work release

After pleading guilty to leaving the scene of a fatal accident and failing to report it in the proper time mandated by law, Scott Venema, 22, Antioch, has been sentenced by Associate Lake County Judge Harry Hartel to two years probation that includes spending six months in the Lake County Work Release Program.

Venema was also ordered to spend 200 hours performing public service and attend alcohol and drug abuse programs, adhering to any recommendations for future conduct made at these programs.

He was the driver of the car involved in a fatal accident on Rte. 41 near Kelly Rd. last December. His passenger, Isais Solano, 27, was killed when the car went out of control and rolled over numerous times.

According to police reports, Solano was found alone at the scene of the accident. Venema had left the scene and called a girlfriend, failing to adhere to the law requiring the report of an accident to the Illinois State Police within three hours of its occurrence.

Solano was pronounced dead at St. Therese Medical Center an hour after the police were notified of the accident.

Brown hopes for strong start

Antioch's baseball team will be hoping to bounce back from a mini-losing streak when the Sequoits travel to traditional North Suburban Conference power Libertyville for the start of the conference season.

Antioch won three games in the first week of the season but dropped contests to Waukegan West and Woodstock for a 3-3 record in pre-NSC games.

"We are a young squad," Antioch Coach Rich Brown said as the season begins to take shape.

Pitcher David Wick, catcher Scott Pasquini, second baseman Bob Mertzler and leftfielder-pitcher Bob Sykes comprise the corps of returning seniors. The rest of the job will have to be done by juniors if Antioch is to reach a goal of a .500 team.

After a day off, the pitchers got back in form but the hitting went sour in a 3-1 loss to Woodstock.

"We're hoping by the end of the year the experience will serve the juniors well," Brown said.

Haley

one of the purposes of the redistricting was to avoid resetting boundaries but the plan favored by the administration, K3-K3-4-5 calls for Oakwood Knolls children in the primary grades to switch from the Lower Grade School to Oakland and Petty primary students to change to the Lower Grade and then to W. C. Petty in fifth Grade before switching to the Upper Grade School for sixth, seventh and eighth.

Burnette's figures show over 500 children and 18 teachers changing schools under this proposal.

Burnette's committee, among others favors the K4-K4-K5, will have just 118 students and five teachers moving.

Some parents are asking that the board leave the district as is and look further into boundary changes to try and alleviate the crowdedness at the Lower Grade.

Skidmore had claimed previously that the K4-K4- four and five plan will give an better equalized education to more students at the least cost to the community.

Haley dispelled talk that the plan was to save money by getting rid of six teachers, adding "There have been no plans for cuts of any kind."

Haley extolled fourth through eight campus advantages at Petty and Upper Grade for sharing of facilities.

Jim Hintz, an interested parent, was upset that the reorganization report done by Skidmore was not handed out to the parents attending the meetings until after the last meeting, leaving parents unable to ask questions of the board concerning the proposed programs.

Burnette charged that not enough time for the board to be able to decide, keeping in mind the preferences of most district electors, has been spent on the project.

He told Haley that the board had spent four months on simply deciding whether or not to have the annual summer school classes, and was spending just a little more before planning to make a very serious decision affecting all the children in Antioch's lower grades.

Haley said the board had put much more time and effort on the reorganization than it did on the summer school question and had not appointed a committee to get input or done a study on that question as it had done on the reorganization.

There were more calls for more information gathering and disseminating, more time from the people attending, but Haley said that the board must try to make a decision by the end of April so that the administration, teachers and parents would know just what would be happening when school starts in September.

Haley added that any information can still be gotten from the Dist. 34 office and all board members can be reached to receive more input from district electors through the administration office by calling (312)395-0712.

Burnette and others urged more residents of the school district to do the above before the April 26 meeting.

On the Board of Education for Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 are Haley, Bruce Jablonski, Gail Heath, Roy Pomrening, Phyllis Zora, Fred Eichhorn and Kathy Oddson.

County child abuse, crime units are up for awards

Lake County's State's Attorney's Office has been nominated for two awards from the National Assoc. of Counties. The two programs are the Economic Crime Unit and the Children's Advocacy Center.

Lake County has received recognition in the past from the National Assoc. of Counties. Since Fred Foreman took office in 1980, the State's Attorney's Office has won national awards for the Victim Assistance Unit, the Self-Insurance/Civil Litigation Division, the Career Offenders/Narcotics Unit, the Child Support Enforcement Unit, the Child Sexual Abuse Review Team, and the Felony Review/Complaint Division. Prior to Foreman's term, the office received one award for the Deferred Prosecution Program.

The Children's Advocacy Center helps victims of sexual abuse or severe physical abuse. Only two such programs exist in the midwest. The Lake County program will serve as the model site for other Illinois programs.

The Economic Crime Unit produced thousands of dollars in restitution for citizens and merchants victimized by "hot checks" and deceptive practices.

Investigator Max Vogel, who is assigned to the unit, teamed with Lake County Sheriff's Dept. Deputy Dan Colin to investigate the Great America Homes scam and helped prepare the case for prosecuting leading to the conviction of Thomas McManus. McManus was sentenced to 10 years in prison for his crime. Vogel regularly lectures to area banks and business.

25 cents for stamp not a big hit

Illinois Congressman Philip M. Crane (R-Mt. Prospect) says the 25-cent first class stamp is the latest indicator Congress should adopt his legislation to privatize the Post Office by turning over its full ownership to postal employees.

"Just 13 years ago, it only cost a dime to send a first class letter. Today it costs a quarter," Crane declared. He asked, "Will we soon have the $1 first class stamp?"

Under Congressman Crane's legislation, all assets of the Post Office would be given to a corporation owned by the employees by establishing an Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP), which would transfer the stock to the employees based upon seniority and rank.

For five years this firm would face no competition. Thereafter, the monopoly would be abolished and free competition permitted in all classes of mail.

Under Congressman Crane's bill, the existing union officials would also be given ownership in the firm providing them with an incentive to work closely with management.

"The constant increase in postal rates must be halted," Congressman Crane said. "And my bill to end the postal monopoly and open the service to competition would bring a halt to the never-ending postal rate hikes."

The Illinois Congressman noted that former Postmaster General Bolger admits that mail is delivered about 10 percent slower than it was 20 years ago.

Hospitals cut fees

Lake County hospitals and most free-standing radiology facilities in the county are offering special reduced rates for mammography screening during April and May.

The American Cancer Society statistics indicate that one out of every 10 women will develop breast cancer during her lifetime. It is the major cancer killer of women, and its main target is women over 35. In fact, breast cancer is the leading cause of all deaths in women from 40 to 44.

The 10 schools of the North Suburban Conference will each send 10 representatives to the program. The fourth of its type will highlight more than 400 student works of art. Each of the 10 schools will display 40 pieces of the students best artwork.

The 100 students representatives will participate in specialized workshops during the morning, with many more gathering for the evening exhibition, which will be open to the public.

To begin the activities, Ken Kokroda, an art teacher at Niles North High School, will present a talk and slide show about the pottery and potters of Mexico. The students will then select two of four other workshops designed and presented by guest artists. These will range from photography to special firing techniques for clay. Students will also be able to learn more about drawing as well the revival of blacksmithing. The evening exhibition will begin at 7 p.m. in the Butler Lake Gymnasium.

America's headache

Now that the 25 cent stamp is here, is the 28 cent stamp or 30 cent stamp far behind? Probably not, not at least in the context of the present environment of a Post Office burdened with bureaucracy, costly union contracts and absence of entrepreneurial spirit.

Conventional wisdom is that mail rates will continue spiraling upward until something drastic is done. Privatization of the postal service is the answer, but doling out mail contracts to the highest bidder is more than a lot of Americans can stomach. (See letter to editor this week.) The great majority of present and past postal employees take great pride in their service and contributions. This pride and dedication forms a reservoir on which to build.

Illinois Congressman Philip M. Crane is offering privatization legislation that deserves more than a passing glance. Crane would build on the reservoir of pride and dedication, turning all assets of the Post Office over to a corporation owned by postal employees. Under the Crane plan, the Post Office would operate for five years without competition. After the "honeymoon" period, there would be free competition for delivery of all classes of mail.

Crane's plan is reasonable, and it certainly can't be faulted for being un-American. It's a plausible answer to America's chronic headache. Let's hear more about the Crane plan.

Dealing with a crisis

Even as the clock ticks ever closer to the demise of existing landfills in this locality, progress is being made by the Lake County Joint Action Solid Waste Planning Agency in solving solid waste disposal problems, painfully slow as it seems.

Members of the agency now have an accurate assessment of the disposal needs of a county where approximately 2,000 tons of waste daily are generated, nearly all of it landfilled. Only a small percentage of waste is being recycled, composted or incinerated.

Members of the agency, headed by Mayor Verna Clayton of Buffalo Grove, have learned that over a 20 year period ending in 2007, the equivalent of 21.7 million cubic yards of additional landfill volume for residential, commercial and industrial waste will be needed. This plus the equivalent of 4.7 million cubic yards of additional landfill volume for construction, demolition and landscaping waste will be necessary unless some other form of disposal such as recycling, composting or incineration is introduced.

In short, Lake County's solid waste disposal needs are staggering. The committee's needs assessment report showed that, with one exception, existing landfills have an estimated life of a maximum of six years.

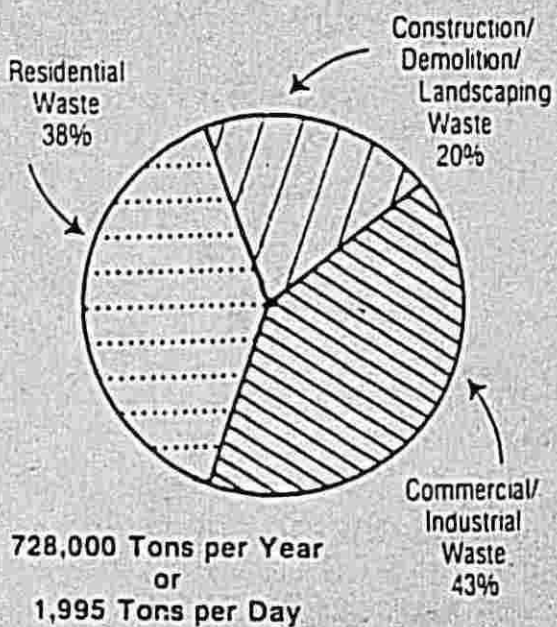

The needs assessment report, presented at the agency's February meeting, will become the basis of a plan of action. It is encouraging to note Clayton's reaction that the report has created a sense of urgency to move ahead with formulating a plan, but the current situation still smacks of crisis proportions because of the rapid utilization of available landfills:

Site	Location	Years
ARF	Grayslake	4-6
BFI	Winthrop Harbor	3-5
Lake Bluff	Lake Bluff	3-8
Zion	Zion	5-6
Lake Co. Grading Land and Lakes	Gurnee	6
	Lincolnshire	2-5

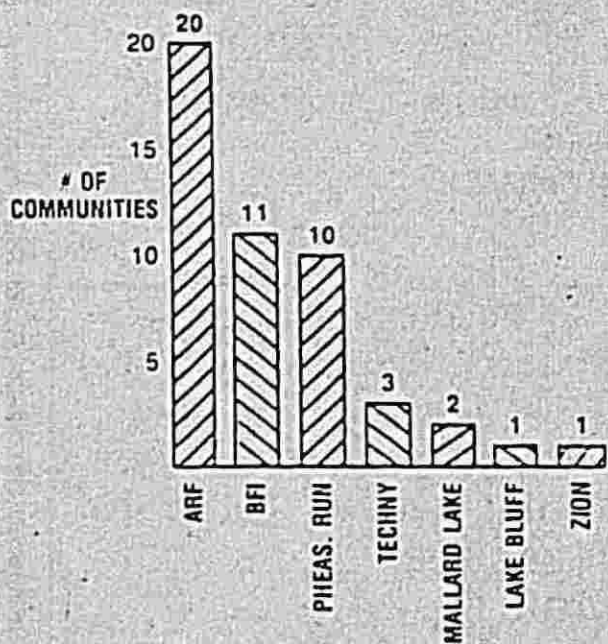

Clearly, landfilling is a limited or virtually unthinkable overall option for the long haul. Shorter term, the agency is taking a hard look at recycling and composting, and is considering three scenarios formulated by consultants. Obviously, a substantial amount of solid waste cannot be dealt with in either of the above manners. Considering, other alternatives and alternatives only underscore the enormity of the problem.

Now that the need has been determined, it is good to see the agency moving ahead at an urgent pace, as described by Chairman Clayton. The agency needs all the help and support the community can give.

Clint Grinnell: total police pro in sheriff's dept

by BILL SCHROEDER

Clinton "Clint" Grinnell, who succeeded Robert "Mickey" Babcox as sheriff of Lake County, is approaching his new job just like he always has viewed his role as a career law enforcement officer—straight forward and no nonsense.

"I'm a policeman, not a politician. That's the way I do my job," explains Grinnell, 56, a life-long resident of Lake County who makes his home on a 15 acre farm in Fremont Township.

Grinnell has taken over as head of the county's biggest police department and the job as the top lawman of a county with a half million population, gracefully and without fanfare. The Libertyville native fits the job like an old shoe.

As chief deputy to the late Sheriff Babcox, Grinnell was an insider and had the authority to run the department while Mickey was attending to "peopling" duties. Grinnell was the architect of the reorganization of the sheriff's office after Babcox inherited the shambles left by the chaotic Tom Brown. Clint knows the job. During Sheriff Babcox' lengthy illness, Grinnell wrote a daily briefing and met with Mickey two to three times a week to keep him abreast of operations.

Under the circumstances, a different type of person might have seized the opportunity to advance his career. For Clint, Mickey was still the sheriff despite his incapacitation. This self-effacing quality, and Grinnell's even-handed style, made him the logical choice when the County Board met to select a successor.

These same qualities, plus Grinnell's "everybody's favorite uncle" personality, will put him in good stead with political leaders dealing with statutory requirements to pick a candidate for sheriff in the November election. Under Illinois Law, when an elected official dies with more than half his term remaining, a special election must be held.

Grinnell is on record as seeking the Republican nomination. As a police professional, Grinnell is well aware that the sheriff must wear two hats—lawman and politician—even if he doesn't wear two guns, like some former Lake County sheriffs have. So he's not shying away from political requirements.

Clint already is on the campaign trail, meeting GOP leaders and getting acquainted with precinct committeemen who ultimately will pick the Republican nominee. And Grinnell has made an astute move in selecting his political advisers, three co-chairpersons. They are Arden Babcox, wife of the late sheriff; William "Bill" Thompson, retired regional superintendent of schools, Fremont Town Clerk Barbara Behm, who is well-grounded in grassroots government and well-known throughout the county. Grinnell has named as his chief deputy, Willie Smith, a highly regarded veteran of 19 years in the sheriff's office and the highest ranking black in the history of the department.

Not a bad start, we'd say, for a guy who never has sought the political limelight, and shuns personal publicity. While somewhat bemused at being thrust into a political role, Grinnell is totally honest about being "up" for the campaign. "I know the job and I'm willing to work to be elected. I think I'll enjoy campaigning. I've talked it over with my wife and family, and they're all behind me," Sheriff Grinnell remarked.

What more can a man say? What more can the voters ask?

HITTING HARD—Atty. Robert Long, Democratic nominee for state's attorney, is leaving no doubt that he'll be conducting a whippy, go-through-the-motions campaign to unseat incumbent State's Atty. Fred Foreman.

Long, who filed suit against Mayor Ray Toft of Antioch for illegal use of the village mailing permit in the March 15 primary, unleashed a blast against Foreman when he spoke before a citizen's group Saturday, April 9, at Prairie View.

Foreman is giving County Building Officer Robert Streicher "a pass" on irregularities in zoning and building code enforcement in unincorporated areas because of political cronyism, Long charged. Long offices in Antioch.

MORE POLITICS—State Rep. Robert "Bob" Churchill (R-Lake Villa) couldn't have made a better choice in selecting as his legislative aide, William B. "Bill" Snodgrass of Waukegan. Snodgrass has excellent political credentials as a long-time Republican worker in Waukegan Township, and he's a blue chipper in education, having served for years on the faculty of North Chicago High where he was superintendent before retiring.

Letter To The Editor

Private not better

Editor:

Somebody wants to repeal the "Private Express Statutes", laws that define the public monopoly over the delivery of first class mail and selected other types of mail as well as calling for the sale of the United States Postal Service.

Before we vote, 'For', let us look around a little. The letter carrier delivering the mail in Washington, D.C. is wearing the same type of uniform as the letter carrier anywhere in the United States. He or she is driving the same type vehicle as that driven on any city route in the U.S.A.

He or she has had the same type of federal screening as to honesty, etc. He is subject to the same fine and or imprisonment as the next carrier. As a result of this screening neither your wife or your children fear opening the door to accept a letter or parcel. Nor are they afraid to allow them to use the washroom if need be.

Members, officers of the government, the military all enjoy franking privileges for their mail if it is for official business. Do you honestly believe a "Private, For Profit Co." would allow this?

Today the USPS is financially self sufficient. It has received no direct taxpayer appropriation since fiscal 1982. Prior to reorganization, treasury subsidies comprised 25 percent of the postal budget. Today? Deficits are financed with USPS equity and future year surpluses.

In 1987 an appropriation of just $684 million was made to pay for reduced postage rates for the blind, handicapped and non-profit mailers. Thus this "Revenue Forgone" appropriation is a subsidy to these mailers, not to the USPS.

Right now the USPS delivers first class mail overnight in local areas over 95 percent of the time and all other first class mail in two or three days 90 percent of the time. Neither rain, nor snow, nor heat, nor gloom of night delays these carriers from their appointed rounds. I have delivered mail on a foot route at 30 below while walking in a foot of snow; I have delivered mail in downpours; I have delivered mail on a foot route when it was 100 degrees Fahrenheit. I may have had to slow up at times, but I did it. I may be retired now but I know the dedication a USPS letter carrier has and I doubt very much if you will get the same pride and dedication from an outfit that is doing it for profit.

While mail volume increased by 76.5 percent between fiscal 1971 and 1987 postal employment has only increased by 9.7 percent (from 728,911 to 799,626). What does this mean? Mail volume handled per employee has risen from 120,000 pieces in 1971 to 799,626 today, an increase of 60 percent.

"If it's not broke don't fix it." They did that to the Bell System, remember? I don't know about you, but our phone bill went up, not down. I am sure if you stop and think you will remember all the garbage they put out about how much better things would be and how we would get a reduction in rate. so, as I have said, "If it's not broke, don't fix it."

School bill aims at state thinking twice

by JOHN S. MATIJEVICH, STATE REPRESENTATIVE

When Lake County legislators met recently with area school superintendents, we were asked to do something about the added costs caused by the 1985 school reforms. The consensus seemed to be that changes in the law aren't the answer. What is necessary is for the State Board of Education to change the ways that it implements the laws. State Schools Superintendent Ted Sanders pledged his cooperation to respond to their concerns.

After the meeting, I discussed the problems with Bernice Bloom, director of ED-RED, an organization representing suburban schools, and Heidi Biederman, Government Relations Associate Director for the Illinois Assn. of School Boards. We concluded that somehow we must impress upon the State Board that adding costs to local school districts can impact negatively on education goals. When classroom instruction time is reduced because of administrative burdens, the students suffer.

Last week, I introduced House Bill 3635 in behalf of the school organizations. To implement law, the state's education agency adopts rules which must go through a regulatory procedure, giving notice and holding hearings before adoption of the rules. The bill would require that when the rules are proposed, the State Board of Education must formulate a "fiscal note," or cost analysis, on how the rules will impact fiscally on local school districts.

The hope is that the state will "think twice" before it directs school districts to do that which carries a "price tag" to local taxpayers. Even if the state pursues a rule that adds costs, local districts are in a better position to budget their resources when they are made aware of fiscal obligations.

School officials argue that when the state mandates local action, the state also has an obligation to pay the costs, under the spirit and letter of the "state mandates act". One of the areas of concerns voiced by school superintendents was that the state's education office must open up the lines of communications with local school administrators. They want to be heard on how a state's directive translates to local costs. House Bill 3635 may help to "open up" those lines.

The Chairman of the House Elementary and Secondary Education Committee, Rep. Dick Mulcahey, is also a co-chief sponsor of the bill. That should make it easier to hurdle the committee with a favorable recommendation. At a session limited to budgetary and emergency matters, it won't be a cinch to pass the measure. From the local school superintendents' standpoint, the bill is both a budgetary and emergency issue. When the increase of taxes to pay for education is the major theme of the legislative agenda, I believe that we must consider a bill that could reduce costs to local taxpayers.

'Jesse' dilemma need not dash Democrats dreams

DEMOCRATS ARE IN a tizzy over how to handle their "Jesse Jackson problem." Jackson, who is running just behind Michael Dukakis in the race for the Democratic nomination for President, has created a dilemma for party leaders.

If he demands, and gets, a spot on the ticket as either Presidential or Vice-Presidential nominee, party leaders believe it will result in certain defeat at the hands of George Bush. On the other hand, if he is denied a spot and is offended in the process, millions of black voters may stay home in November, also leading to certain defeat for the Democrats.

All the party leaders and pundits who discuss the issue are quick to say that the problem is not that Jackson is black, but that his positions on many issues are too radical and that he has too little governmental and administrative experience.

Well, I believe them. So I am going to offer a modest proposal that may solve the Democrats' conundrum and give us a more exciting race in November than we've had in a while.

First, Dukakis must continue what he began in Wisconsin - that is, winning convincingly in head-to-head competition with Jackson in the remaining states which will hold primaries. That will make Dukakis the clear choice for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

None the less, Jackson will go to convention with the second largest bloc of delegates and a constituency that Democrats must have in order to win in November. So Dukakis is going to have to sit down and talk turkey with Jackson.

It is hard to imagine Jackson doing a good job of playing second fiddle to anyone, but that is the job every Vice-President must do convincingly. Jackson's status will go up from being a black leader, to that of a party leader who is black. He must be consulted with on the issues of the day by any Democratic administration.

By giving Jackson the status in the party that he has earned, Dukakis may be able to forego giving him a spot that would make both men miserable - the Vice-Presidential nomination.

Even if that works, many blacks may remain disaffected. That brings in the final piece in the puzzle. The Democrats have said the problem is not Jackson's color, but his positions.

JUST POLITICS

by Charles Johnston

So, in consultation with Jackson, Dukakis should choose one of the many blacks who do have governmental experience and whose positions on issues are more in tune with the mainstream of American thought. The names of Barbara Jordan of Texas or Tom Bradley of California spring immediately to mind.

Thus, all elements of the Democratic Party come out of the convention inspired and united. Party leaders have a strong ticket that can give Bush a tough race for the oval office; Jackson gets status as one of the real movers and shakers of the Democratic Party; and blacks can go to the polls secure in the knowledge that incipient racism was not what kept Jackson off the ticket.

It is certainly no guarantee of victory, but it would make for one heckuva race.

Lake County

Baxter Healthcare Corporation employees donated 911 units of blood during Baxter's blood drive held March 22-24 and 28-31, at Baxter offices in Deerfield, and at Baxter facilities in Round Lake and Waukegan. Will Lucas and Frank Fiala coordinated the drives. Baxter plans to hold two blood drives annually in support of LifeSource, a not-for-profit community service organization. It was formed in January 1987, as a cooperative venture of the American Red Cross and the Blood Center of Northern Illinois. LifeSource supplies blood, components, and related services to more than 60 hospitals in metropolitan Chicago.

Libertyville

Two employees of First United/Rayner's Libertyville office earned high honors in March. Karen Fenton's $700,000 in sales "pushed her well past the million dollar mark for 1988", according to Tom Kreuser, vice-president and sales manager. Fenton is a 10-year resident of Libertyville and has posted annual sales of over $3 million for the past three years. Also, Patricia Webb, says Kreuser, "was tops in the First United/Rayner office" with sales totalling over $740,000 last month.

Vernon Hills

Britt's Furniture has moved from its previous location in Libertyville to a new site in Vernon Hills. Since its opening in 1980, the business has been so successful that it outgrew its Libertyville quarters, prompting owners Britt and Vicky Carter to move to the new Rivertree Court in Vernon Hills, expanding their space from 2900 to 7000 square feet, more than doubling the size of their previous store. "The added space permits us to focus on total concept designing," Carter said. "We now have a design center- a drapery and carpet showroom- as well as a far more extensive selection of high-quality furniture."

Great American Homes, Inc., has announced the appointment of Barbara Powell as Relocation Director at its Lake Zurich office. Powell will work with incoming and outgoing transferees generated through the firm's four relocation networks: Translo, The Metro Group, Great American Properties and Worldwide Properties. McKie must choose: quit or expand?

by IRIS MAYFIELD

In a cavalier manner, Sandy McKie sits back and enjoys the fruits of his 66 years of labor, but bristles when talking about the personal crossroad he's staring smack in the face; to expand his McKie and Sons Chrysler dealership or retire.

A hard decision for any entrepreneur, whether to stop and sit on your natural instincts, or finish up as you've lived.

There seems to be an easy answer resounding through the Fox Lake dealership at 89 S. Rte. 12. His son Bill, 43, has been in business with him for almost 20 years. Bill graduated from Southern Methodist University in Dallas with a degree in business administration.

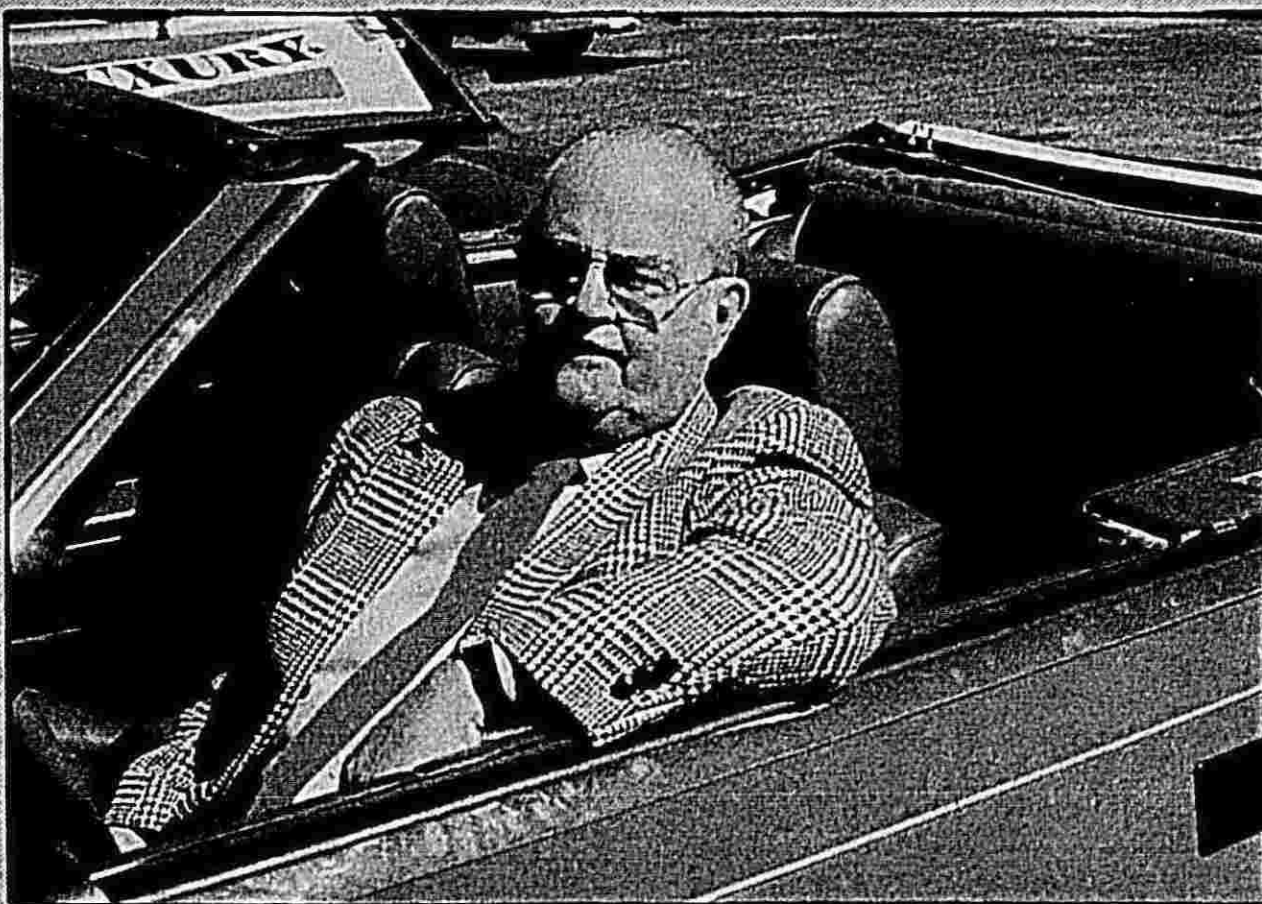

Bill was growing up and getting an education when his dad started as general manager for Tillis Motor Sales in Wheaton in 1946, and in 1949 bought Glen Ellyn Motor Sales.

Bill started working with his father in the 60s, when his father owned and ran Quality Chrysler-Plymouth in Wheaton.

Bill has stayed with his dad, and seen McKie and Sons grow. Sandy McKie says, "Our sales have increased every year we've been here."

Almost in the same breath McKie says, "We're looking to expand. We're outgrowing our facilities." Then he says, "I want my son to buy me out."

The dealership's name, Sandy McKie and Sons, implies more than one son because, at one time, Sandy McKie's son-in-law Gene Francis was in business with him. The two of them owned Lakeview Ford, which was directly across the street. At one time they ran the Ford and Chrysler dealerships. The son-in-law has since moved to Wisconsin, where he has a dealership.

McKie says his life and hobby have been the automobile business. "I'm very active in the dealer association, and I'm now president of the Chicagoland Chrysler-Plymouth Dealer's Assn."

He was also elected to the dealer council.

He says the association oversees the spending of around $5 million in advertising. McKie says as a member of the council, he is liaison between the local dealers group and factory problems.

"I love the business," he says, adding, "Fortunately I've had a hell of a good wife. Your wife is part of your business."

McKie says his wife Gladys helped in the business whenever she was needed, and once was acting general manager.

The McKies' daughter, Laurel, taught high school in Round Lake and was active in Fox Lake politics with the building and zoning committee before she moved to Wisconsin.

The McKies also have four grandchildren. "They're all sweethearts and I have the chance to spoil the hell out of them," McKie says. "I'm one of the fortunates. Each day is fun."

He has been a member of the American Legion since 1946 and is a member and past commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

How does a man with such an outlook and active life end a career? Does he sit (Continued on page 17.)

Counselor publishes study

Diane L. Kjos, a student development counselor at Governor's State University, in University Park, has published a short summary examining the numbers and patterns of job-search resources used by successful and unsuccessful job seekers.

Kjos' summary, which appeared in the March edition of the Journal of Employment Counseling, said that out of 814 persons surveyed, only 178 (21.9 percent) reported finding jobs within 90 days. The other 636 persons (71.8 percent) had yet to find employment after 90 days of searching.

The main difference between successful and unsuccessful job seekers, said Kjos, seems to be in the patterns of using job search resources. Various categories of unemployed persons used different means in their hunt for employment. Depending on whether the job seeker is a networker, unskilled worker, dislocated worker or skilled worker, job search resources ranged from using family for leads to the use of job clubs and public notices.

Kjos said that not all job search activities or resources are useful to all job seekers. The most useful strategy is to identify and use a combination of complementary resources and activities.

Dynetics finds new home at Lincolnshire Business Center

Dynetics Engineering Corp. of Wheeling, designer and manufacturer of credit card mailing and accounting equipment, has purchased a 1.2 acre site for a new headquarters facility in Dolan Associates' 93-acre Lincolnshire Business Center. This was announced jointly by Dolan President Harry L. Dolan and Dynetics President James E. Hill.

Dynetics plans to construct a single-story masonry building for engineering, service and distribution at the northeast corner of Heathrow and Bond streets, said Mathew J. Sopchik, Lincolnshire Business Center marketing manager who represented the owner in the sale. Dynetics was represented by broker Greg Wurnisch of Coldwell Banker.

Architect Sam Lumia of Mt. Prospect designed the 15,000-square-foot building, and his S.C. Lumia Construction Co. will build the facility, which is scheduled for completion in December 1988.

With the Dynetics sale, the first 50-acre phase of Lincolnshire Business Center is almost totally sold out, according to Sopchik. Pre-selling for the next 43-acre phase is now under way. This spring, Dolan Associates will further open the infrastructure-improved property by extending Bond St. To Aptakisic Rd.

One of the early purchases of land in Lincolnshire Business Center was Dana Mills, a textile converter with international distribution. In June, Dana Mills will move into its new one-story, masonry corporate headquarters on a one-acre site in the center, reports controller Albert Silcroft.

Other purchasers include CM Realty Co., Prentiss Properties and Northern Builders, which are constructing tow speculative buildings each. And Dolan Associates recently completed a 28,600-square-foot speculative high-tech office/warehousing building overlooking a lake a Schelter Rd. and Heathrow Dr.

Remaining sites at Lincolnshire Business Center, which opened in spring 1986, range from one acre to 28 acres and are available for sale, ground lease or build-to-suit, Sopchik notes. Zoning for the development site allows uses ranging from six-story office buildings to full manufacturing facilities.

One Soo Line lead railroad track is in place and another is planned. Vehicular traffic can reach Lincolnshire Business Center from Half Day Rd. (Rte. 22) via Schelter Rd., with additional access provided from Milwaukee Ave. and Aptakisic Rd.

Dolan Associates is paying full commissions to procuring brokers, Sopchik points out. For additional information, call (312) 945-6600.

Domino Amjet finds new site in business park

Domino Amjet, Inc., an international developer and producer of industrial electronic overprinting devices, has selected the Grand Tri-State Business Park in Gurnee as the location for its new North American headquarters.

The new building site had to meet very stringent requirements for the 10-year old England-based company. With a workforce already in place in its Gurnee, Waukegan, and Lake Bluff offices, Domino Amjet required a location close to its existing and already trained workforce in order to avoid employee relocation and work disruption.

A second major factor in its selection of the site was the developer's ability to build to the tenant's particular needs. In this case, Domino Amjet required a facility that would be ready to occupy this summer, with 50 percent office and laboratory space and 50 percent warehouse space. In addition, since the U.S. operations of the rapidly growing company generate 40 percent of its total international sales, the new facility had to be built with expansion in mind. Initially, 80 people will work at the new headquarters, with as many as 30 new employees added in the first year.

The new business park is a project being developed by principals of Frain Camins and Swartchild, in a joint venture with Tom Rosenquist and Lake Partners. Domino Amjet became the first signed tenant in February. Its 72,000 square foot building is now under construction with occupancy set for June 1988.

According to Alan Barrel, chairman of Domino Amjet, "Both the developers of the business park and the local officials bent over backwards to meet our company's requirements."

"Proximity to the Tri-State Tollway (I-294), the convenient airports and the ease of getting to and from the new office was a primary concern," Barrel added. "The business park offers us a central location in a prominent, convenient and highly visible section of Lake County."

Richard Losch, president of Domino Amjet, said, "Housing, schools, services, and hotel proximity were also very important parts of our decision to relocate here. We feel we have a great deal to offer our employees by selecting this site for a headquarters."

An additional benefit Domino Amjet will realize is a plentiful and diverse labor pool of approximately 200,000 people.

3 STEPS TO SMARTER CARPET BUYING

CHOOSE THE RIGHT COLOR

When deciding on colors, remember that the carpet will be the most important color in the room. Darker colors tend to dominate a room, whereas lighter colors tend to blend into a room.

CHOOSE THE RIGHT STYLE

When choosing the style, take into consideration how each room is used. A family room for example has far more traffic than a living room, and therefore a denser pile may be needed.

MAKE SURE IT'S A WEAR-DATED[®] CARPET WITH STAINBLOCKER[™]

Regardless of the color and style you choose, the most important thing to look for is the Wear-Dated[®] label. And because Wear-Dated[®] Carpet with StainBlocker[™] has superior stain protection, even if you have kids and pets, you can consider a light colored carpet.

Let us help you explore all the new decorating possibilities Wear-Dated[®] Carpet with StainBlocker[™] has to offer.

Purple Heart veterans qualify for new special license plates

Vanity and personalized license plates are a common sight in Illinois, but many people may not know the state also issues license plates especially for persons who have earned military honors or served in the nation's armed forces, according to 32nd District State Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-McHenry County).

"Special license plates are available for recipients of the Congressional Medal of Honor, members of the Armed Forces Reserve, disabled veterans, ex-prisoners of war, and active members of the Illinois National Guard," Schaffer said. "The newest special license plate honors Illinois veterans who have been awarded a Purple Heart Medal for being wounded in action."

An applicant must be a United States citizen, live in Illinois, and has been awarded the Purple Heart Medal by a branch of the United States Armed Forces.

To order the special red, white, and blue Purple Heart license plates, Illinois residents must submit a preprinted renewal application, $48 registration fee and a letter from the state Dept. of Veterans Affairs or federal government verifying the medal.

The Purple Heart plates may also be ordered before current license plates expire by sending a request, registration application, current registration identification card, letter of verification, $5 reclassification fee and current license plates.

Documentation of the Purple Heart honor is available by contacting the Illinois Dept. of Veterans Affairs, 208 W. Cook St., Springfield 62704, (217) 782-3418, or the National Personnel Records Center, 9700

New sheriff is ready for party calling

By JOSEPH SQUALAK

After 33 years in law enforcement, Lake County Sheriff Clinton (Clint) Grinnell now must learn something new. It's how to be a politician.

"That's part of the job," said the recently named 36th sheriff in the history of the county. He came to the post last month with the death of former Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcox.

"When I was named chief deputy by Babcox when he came to office in 1982 he said 'You take care of the police end and I'll take care of the politics.' That worked well for six years, even to the point of getting Babcox re-elected in 1986.

"I don't know much about politics," the soft-spoken, 56-year-old sheriff said, "but I guess I will learn." Toward that goal he has attempted to organize the office and his duties to spend more time away from his desk. His new chief deputy, Willie Smith of the Round Lake area, is giving him the chance to do this.

Sometime this spring the county's two political parties will slate candidates to finish Babcox's two-year term. Grinnell hopes the Republican party will make him its candidate of choice.

"I believe I have done a good job in my six years with the sheriff's department," Grinnell said. "I have been in on every major decision in the department since Babcox took office." This includes planning and current construction of the new Lake County jail under construction, the most modern and advanced of its kind and is already regarded as a showcase facility.

After 33 years of police and administrative work Grinnell doesn't mind becoming a politician. His warm, gregarious, down-to-earth manner have already endeared him to many.

He also has helped develop the county's work release program, which will become part of the new jail. As part of his administrative duties he has worked out numerous manpower and staffing changes over the years. "It seems like I've been going to school all of my life and in this job, as my previous one I have had a chance to put this education to practice."

Grinnell is proud of the 324-member department he now heads. "When Babcox and I took over this department it was demoralized and recovering from a lawsuit brought by deputies over harassment, politics, favoritism and interference with their duties. They prevailed. It was a touchy situation.

"The atmosphere in the department has changed," the sheriff said. "We have as good a department as any in the state, maybe better. These people take pride in their job because they are allowed to do it in a professional manner. The people of this department like that and so do I."

That is how he grew from a job as patrolman with the Libertyville Police Department starting in July 1955 to the top law enforcement job in Lake County. When he became a police officer after returning from the Korean War Libertyville was the biggest city west of Waukegan, but still small enough so he knew all of the city's 3,000-plus residents. In 1969 he was named the city's police chief, serving for 13 years.

When Babcox needed someone to help him run the sheriff's department, he tapped Grinnell.

Now, it is his turn, he hopes to become a sheriff in his own right. Although 56 years old, he still feels more than capable of giving the county at least two more years, maybe even, six years of public service.

"I have been part of the professionalism and integrity of this department for six years," Grinnell said. "There will be no radical changes in the department or departures from what we have been doing," he said if elected. "I just want to be a good sheriff."

The only so-called politician in his family, Grinnell is following in the footsteps of his cousin, Guy Grinnell, who served as Libertyville Twp. supervisor for almost 25 years. He doesn't know if any of this background has rubbed off on him.

Like any other public servant, Grinnell is on duty 24 hours a day. But he never takes his job home with him to his 15-acre farmette on Owens Rd. in Fremont Twp. He and his wife, Marion, were married two months before he became a Libertyville policeman 33 years ago. They have five children, only one of whom lives at home.

Grinnell likes the open air of the township where he grew up. So much so, in fact, he has a two-horse team of blond and white Belgium draft horses. "Sometimes I drive them around the farm," the sheriff said of his hobby, "and other times I take them up and down the road out front."

How about his former boss, the man he succeeded? "He was a great man to work with," Grinnell said of Babcox. "He was a pleasant surprise. He had a warm sense of humor. Babcox also wanted the best. He told me good politics is doing a good job and he wanted a good sheriff's department. We worked extremely well together," he said of the sheriff who died last month of cancer.

Grinnell hopes it now his turn. He believes he is ready.

County deer abundant, becoming society woe

A venison flight seemed an unusual experience, but climaxing on April Fool's Day really caught my attention, being a member of the Illinois Urban Deer Study committee.

My son-in-law, Rich, and two others were leaving a New Jersey airport in a private business jet, for return to Chicago's O'Hare. It was 11:30 p.m., on March 31.

Rich said they were taxiing for takeoff when a bump was felt at 160 mph, just as the jet separated from the runway. "We hit a deer", the pilot informed, with the front wheel of the 3 wheel triangular landing gear. They circled the control tower, but no one could see or tell if the gear was broken. The pilot decided it best to land and find out. He came in carefully, nose high, on the two rear wheels. Touchdown was faultless, and then the craft dropped to the nose wheel at about a 55 mph ground speed.

Everyone was braced and strapped for an emergency. Ground crew, fire vehicles, and ambulances were on standby. "We felt the nose wheel touch", Rich recounted, "and suddenly we were in, smooth and clean, no problems, just deep sighs of relief and appreciative thanks to our jet pilot and the one high in the sky who guides him. The casualty was a decapitated deer, and the clock moved past midnight...it was April Fool's Day.

We'll be seeing more deer in northern Illinois as the weather warms, but there will be no hunting in Cook and Lake County areas to thin the growing herd that has no natural enemies. Over abundance of animals and under feeding, due to limited browse and grazing areas, can become a problem to man and animal alike, on a sustained basis. Auto road kills of deer numbered 719 in these two counties during 1986, totalling over $1 million in vehicle damages.

Last year, a 747 jet/deer collision at O'Hare field absorbed $114,000 in aircraft repairs. It will require cooperation between state and local governments to resolve problems as they grow. Consumptive use of deer as a renewable resource is a cornerstone for wildlife management throughout the U.S. We are all part of the picture and need to take an interest. The Conservation Dept., as well as County Forest Preserve Districts, are open to input, as is the committee on Urban Deer Control.

Tourists and outdoor enthusiasts traditionally flood our national water resources to satisfy their recreational and hobby interests.

Indigent mothers need baby care, but where

What the Lake County Medical Society says is a solution to the problem of providing adequate medical care to indigent mothers-to-be is too costly, self-serving and does not resolve the problem, says a county board committee.

No medical care has been provided these mothers since late last year when two physicians providing obstetrics services at the Lake County Health Department returned to private practice.

Prior to that time an estimated 500 public aid recipients per year were receiving pre-natal and obstetrical care from the county.

Until last year the majority of these mothers delivered babies at St. Therese Hospital along with Victory Hospital, both in Waukegan, and Condell Hospital in Libertyville. The majority of welfare mothers needing obstetrical care live in northeast Lake County in an area extending to Round Lake. Medical Society figures show. The mortality statistics for newborns of uninsured, indigent mothers taken to hospital emergency rooms when in labor is sufficient to warrant Illinois Dept. of Public Aid attention and, possibly, a special grant to improve medical services for these mothers, the Medical Society said.

Reacting to criticism from the Lake County board, the Lake County Medical Society formed a task force of representatives from area hospitals: Lake Forest, Condell, Highland Park, St. Therese and Good Shepherd.

In place of the prevailing rates of $304 for delivery of a baby and $477 for pre-natal care and delivery, the task force and Medical Society suggested rates be raised to $800. They said this is about 50 percent of the customary fees for either services. This fee would be paid by the county, or as another suggestion, from a special fund to which all hospitals and, possibly, some charitable organizations would contribute. The fund would be billed directly for services.

The county board's Building and Health Committee headed by Helen Belmont Amendola has reacted with a resounding no. It says the only way the problem can be solved is by allowing local hospital staffs to work with and give equal medical privileges to new obstetricians who may be hired by the county.

Implied in the total solution is that the county recruit and pay for two full-time obstetricians, Amendola says this is not in the budget for several reasons.

"Implicit in the recommendation is that these physicians will not get attending privileges at local hospitals," said Amendola, who is chairman of the committee that oversees the county's health needs. "This in itself is second-class medical care and denies the expectant mother the ability of even meeting the physician who will deliver her child."

"The Medical Society must have some fear of giving local hospital privileges to qualified obstetricians who may wish to serve the disadvantaged population," Amendola added.

A suggestion by the Medical Society each hospital serve an estimated 170 such patients was likewise rejected by the Health Committee. "It would be a substantial burden, for example, for 170 patients to travel to Good Shepherd Hospital (near Lake Zurich) since a small number of eligible patients reside in that service area," Amendola said.

She and other committee members—supervisors Tony Serdar, Mike Graham and Norman Geary—say the only positive suggestion of the Medical Society is that physicians accept 50 percent of their usual fee for a delivery and pre-natal care. But it is asking the wrong party, namely the Lake County Board of Supervisors, to make up the difference, the committee members said. "...to suggest the county pick up an additional funding burden of at least $1-million more annually is ill advised and, at best, would be an additional burden on taxpayers," the committee said in a joint news release.

According to county figures, the number of eligible mothers needing pre-natal and obstetrical care is close to 500. The Medical Society estimates the number to be closer to 1,000, says the committee, "which is a number that is slowly escalating and will require the county to serve twice as many patients in (in this category) as before."

Stop taxing motorists Motor Club tells state

AAA-Chicago Motor Club officials say the Illinois motor fuel tax does not need to be increased in order to pay for the existing Illinois road program.

The club said new sources of revenue, from non-highway user groups must be developed if the state is to make additional improvements to the transportation network.

At a joint hearing of the Transportation Committees of the Illinois House and Senate, club officials testified there is no need for alarm about current Illinois Dept. of Transportation funding levels. The club based its conclusions on an analysis of highway user taxation in other industrial states; and on a review of the state's current revenue situation.

Club representatives testified the state's current road program may not be adequate to meet the transportation needs of the next few years. The Motor Club will support a gas tax increase, provided it is tied in with several important priorities, including:

- adequate rehabilitation of the primary system;
- construction of supplementary freeways (primary system);
- relief for suburban gridlock; and
- relief for congestion on the Chicagoland expressway system.

In testimony, club officials also called for an end to diversion of highway user fees to non-highway purposes, such as mass transit, or for balancing of federal, state, or local budgets.

It was pointed out that the highway use, alone, may never be an adequate source for highway funding. Other groups which benefit from excellent highways, such as developers, businesses, and entertainment establishments along major routes should be considered by the General Assembly as sources for highway revenue.

Merchants sponsor 'Dog in Country'

Make Mothers' Day special this year. Spend the day relaxing and enjoying the activities of a Country Festival organized by the northside merchants of Richmond, only a short drive from the northwest suburbs to the Illinois/Wisconsin border (Rtes. 12 and 173).

Saturday and Sunday, May 7 and 8, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. visit an antique doll display; browse the basket bazaar, country craft fair, plant and pottery sale, and wicker and wrought iron specials; and be tempted by homemade breads and sweets at the church-sponsored bake sale.

In addition to visiting these activities, organized by A Day in the Country (5420 Kenosha St./Rte. 173), the Fox Hunt Shoppe (5505 Kenosha St./Rte. 173), Village Doll Shop (5511 Kenosha St./Rte. 173), and Bob's Bargain Mart (10615 North Main St./Rte. 12), participate in the festival's shop walk of these four stores and be eligible to win one of several free prizes, including a $25 gift certificate and store-donated merchandise.

Stop at any of the four sponsoring shops to pick up a festival shop walk card. Visit each and have the card validated to be eligible to win prizes. No purchases are required to be eligible for the drawing, held at 6 p.m. at A Day in the Country. Winners need not be present.

The craft fair will feature local crafters, like Marsha and Anne Szilagyi with ceramics, soft sculpture, and decorative wood accent pieces; Beverly Greenwood of McHenry with cross stitch towels, pillows, and pictures; and Rosalee Clem of Woodstock with handcrafted oak, cherrywood, and walnut furniture and decorative accent pieces.

Crafters will display at the Fox Hunt Shoppe from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days.

What better way to get into the feeling of spring than relax for a moment in a lovely white wicker rocker or chaise lounge. The front yard of A Day in the Country will have dozens of wicker pieces ready for selection.

Besides meeting the dolls at the Village Doll Shop, owner Pauline Fox has organized a children's antique furniture sale. In addition, free brochures on starting an antique doll collection will be available.

Forget the diet, too! Plan to visit the Victorian home of Stephen and Chris Vera (10701 North Main St./Rte. 12) to purchase homebaked items from the ladies' guild of the Christian Life Fellowship Church.

Each of the four shops jointly sponsoring the May 7 to 8 Country Festival features special activities, displays, or sale merchandise in addition to inviting the public to join in the free festival's shop walk and craft fair from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days.

Dance company to fete 10th with dance fest

In March, the Civic Center for Performing Arts and Crain's Chicago Business opened the 1988 Spring

based companies like the Joffrey Ballet and Cleveland San Jose Ballet have pirouetted through, it is fitting that Chicago's own Hubbard Street Dance Company should have the distinct honor of closing the festival with the punch and polish that has catapulted the company to international acclaim in one short decade:

Co-sponsored by Data General in its seven performances in the Civic Opera House, April 28 to May 7, Hubbard Street Dance Company will present the company premiere of Margo Sappington's "And Now This", and the Chicago premieres of Sappington's "Step Out of Love" and "Rose from the Blues", a collaborative work by Artistic Dir. Lou Conte, Rick Hilsabeck, and Richard Levi. The May 6 performance has been underwritten by a generous grant from AT&T to Hubbard Street Dance Company.

Program A, to be presented Thursday, April 28 at 8 p.m., Saturday, April 30 at 8 p.m., and Sunday, May 1 at 3 p.m. will open with Sappington's full-company abstract ballet, "And Now This", the third original work she has created for Hubbard Street Dance Company. Set to music by Leonard Bernstein, the ballet is composed of three sections, each exploring different stylistic idiosyncrasies, showing the versatility of both choreographer and dancers. "And Now This" opens with a balletic interpretation of the overture to "Candide", followed by a lyrical expression of the "Lonely Town" sequence from "On the Town", employing two couples and a solo woman. The work closes in a jazz tour de force to "Prelude" and "Riffs" from "Prelude, Fugue, and Riffs". "Rose from the Blues", by Conte, Hilsabeck, and Levi, is set to all blues songs and deals thematically with love lost. The work begins with Conte's lyrical, sensual duet "Georgia", set to the Willie Nelson vocal. The second dance by Hilsabeck, "Lenny", is set to the song of the same name by Stevie Ray Vaughn. "Lenny" is a solo for a woman experiencing the isolation of being alone. "Love Letters", Levi's agitated duet for two lovers, is danced to the vocal by Kitty Wells.

Following is David Parsons' witty gothic farce, "The Envelope". Set to a pastiche of Rossini overtures, "The Envelope" pokes good-hearted fun at the world of classical ballet.

"Decisions, Decisions, Decisions", created especially for the dance company by freelance New York choreographer Richard Levi, engages three men in costume designer Jeffrey Jackson's bare-chested boldness, each locked in his own imaginary prison, struggling with individual decisions. Set to the rock-fusion score of Steps Ahead, the concept of "Decisions" is enhanced by lighting designer Robert Christen's evocative "cages of light".

Program B ends with the Sappington premier of "And Now This". Sappington's full-company work sums up the progressive artistic vision and the dazzling versatility of the Company in its 10th anniversary year.

Tickets for the Civic Center for Performing Arts' presentation of Hubbard Street Dance Company are available at the Civic Opera House Box Office, at all Ticketmaster outlets, or by calling (312) 902-1500. Ticket prices range from $20 to $27. For more information about the Hubbard Street Dance Company Benefit April 29, call (312) 663-0853.

Not first to build their church on some rock

by GLORIA DAVIS

Would you join a church which the minister claims is a "whosoever church" pastored by an ex-sawsmith?

There are 20 people in Round Lake Beach that obviously found that description an attractive one since they are new members of the Rock of Round Lake.

The Rock of Round Lake is an interdenominational church that meets in the Family Health Center on Rollins Rd. twice each Sunday and on one Wednesday evening a week in area homes.

Blake Higginbottom and his wife Julia, who prefer being called, Brother Blake and Sister Julia, arrived in Round Lake Beach at the start of 1988 from the mother church in Panama City, Fla., with the teachings of the "Word" of Jesus Christ and a plan to build a church on the "Rock," so to speak. The "Rock" standing for Jesus, the Rock foundation.

The Higginbottoms are self-ordained ministers of the Church of the Rock of Panama City, a church they joined three years ago, taking Bible courses and studying under their minister.

The Rock Church now has 1,000 members nationwide and the Rock of Round Lake is the third satellite church (an extension of the mother church).

Now 35, Brother Blake turned to the Christian Church in 1970 and since joining the Rock Church has gotten caught up in spreading his belief in this progressive charismatic multi-racial church for both the rich and the poor, that treats the revelations of both the Old and New Testaments as one revelation.

Leaving his profession as a sawsmith (one responsible for the repair and maintenance of the circular saws used in sawmills), Brother Blake, along with his wife, who is his co-minister according to the church's belief of "flesh of one flesh," became itinerant traveling ministers in Florida.

They are being supported by the mother church until the time that their church is self supporting.

"We will probably look towards leasing a site for the church when the membership stands at approximately 75," Brother Blake says, adding that they hope to expand to cover the entirety of Lake County eventually.

Building their own church is also in the Higginbottom's future plans.

The Sunday morning service, which meets at 10 a.m. is the worship celebration and the Sunday evening service, which meets at 7 p.m., is the School of the Word.

The informal Wednesday night "solar cells" which meet in different homes, often includes their version of a potluck dinner called "Agape Love Feast."

The Higginbottoms are depending on advertising and word of mouth to help draw more members to their church which considers itself "An oasis of love in a troubled world."

THANK YOU

I wish to express my appreciation and gratitude to the Grayslake Fire Dept. and other fire departments assisting when fire struck Johnny D's Restaurant Monday afternoon, April 11. Firemen did an excellent job containing the fire. They acted quickly and worked professionally. Their expertise prevented total destruction. I am proud of them and can't praise them enough.

Sincerely,
John Doetsch

ROCK TRACKS

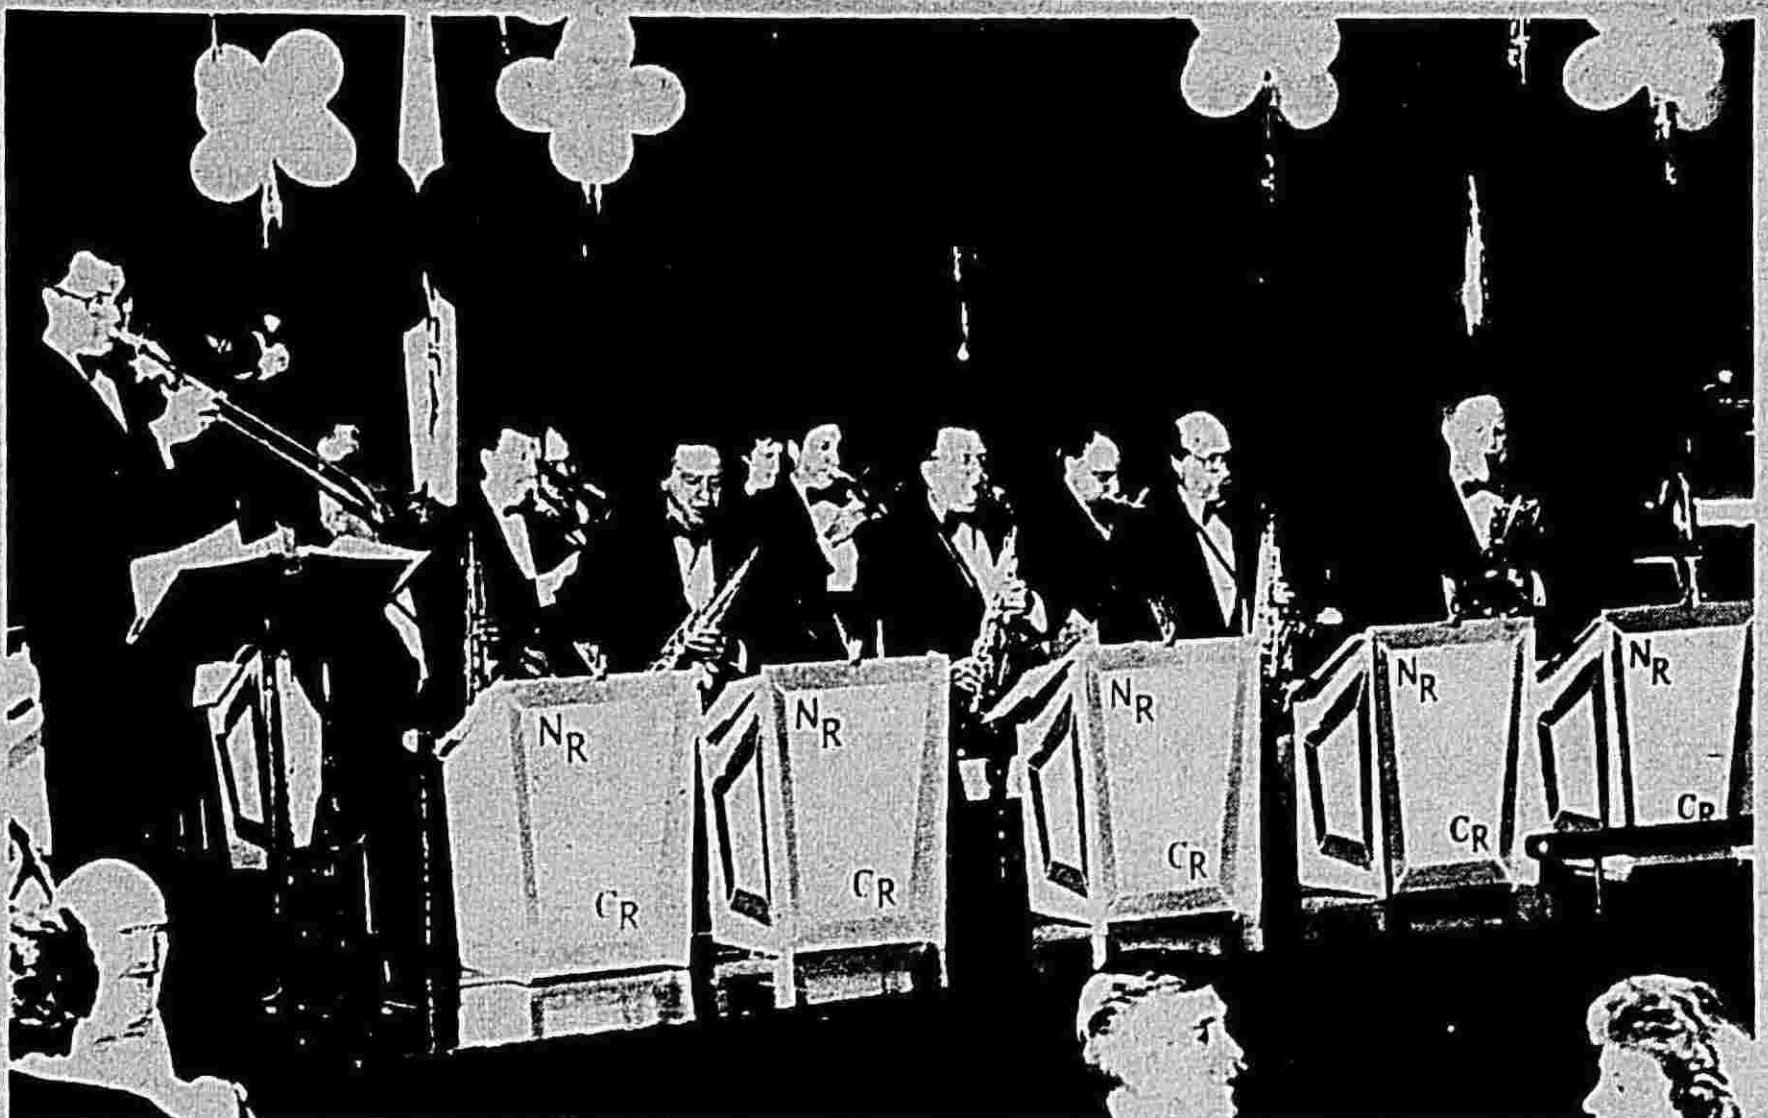

By Rob Ferrus

Scenes From the Southside, Bruce Hornsby and the Range's new album, will be in the stores May 3rd. Bruce and his brother John wrote this original material for the LP, which through Bruce's signature mixture of passionate piano and lyrical insights deals largely with his adolescence in Virginia. Listen for the arrival of the first single, "The Valley Road," due any day now. Last year Bruce's RCA debut The Way It Is sold over 2.5 million copies.

Glass Tiger will release their second LP Diamond Sun on EMI-Manhattan Records Wednesday, April 13th. The upcoming LP moves in directions alien to visual Glass Tiger fan expectations. It includes "This Island Earth," a song about the love-hate relationship we all have with the human condition. The tune comes from Glass Tiger's lead singer and lyricist Alan Frew's disgust at the violence in countries like Ireland, Iran, Libya... Friends say that the strongest motivation for the song came from the sense of mortality that hit Frew when he worked two years in a hospital autopsy room.

Another tune, "Worlds Crumble," deals with an equally dismal topic — starvation. The title track, "Diamond Sun," is about tribal cultures stamped out by a conglomerate world. (A fate shared by citizens of his native village Coatbridge, Scotland.)

The current LP follows Glass Tiger's gold debut album, The Thin Red Line, which produced two Top Ten singles (one of which peaked at Number Two). Like Diamond Sun, the first album contained an unusual collection of similar themes. "Vanishing Tribes" was a song about primitive peoples being destroyed by the march of Western civilization, and "The Thin Red Line" centered on the fate of Scottish troops in the Crimean War.

'Big Band Sound' returns

By popular demand, big band music returns to Chicagoland area on Saturday, April 16, when Schaumburg Marriott presents the Nelson Riddle Orchestra, directed by Christopher Riddle during special weekend concert engagement at hotel.

'Black Patent Leather' coming to Marriott Lincolnshire

"Do Black Patent Leather Shoes Really Reflect Up?", the hilarious musical comedy, finally comes to the North Shore. After a highly successful four-year run at the Forum Theatre, the show played to sell-out crowds in Detroit, Philadelphia, and Boston. It now opens at Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre in Lincolnshire beginning previews April 13, opening April 20, and playing through June 19.

"Do Black Patent Leather Shoes Really Reflect Up?", a satirical chronicle of growing up Catholic in a big city, pokes hilarious fun at the drill-sergeant discipline of nuns and such obligatory - and sometimes embarrassing - rites as weekly confession.

Based on the novel of the same name by John R. Powers, the musical follows Eddie Ryan and Becky Bakowsky from grade school through high school in the more innocent age of the late '50s and early '60s.

Crotchety Sister Lee, whose voice carries authority and whose hand carries a ruler for smacking knuckles, reigns supreme in the classroom; and stern Father O'Reilly indoctrinates the boys on the passage - and possible sins - of puberty.

The cast for "Black Patent Leather Shoes" includes: John Ruess (Eddie), making his second appearance at Marriott's after finishing the role of Che in "Evita". Prior Chicago credits include "La Cage aux Folles" at Can-didly; Curly in "Oklahoma!"; and Lun Tha in "The King and I" at Drury Lane South.

Susan McGhee (Becky) marks this as her ninth production at Marriott's including "A Day in Hollywood/A Night in the Ukraine", "The King and I", and "The Wiz". Chicago audiences know her impersonation of Chita Rivera, Mary Martin, and Liza Minnelli in "Forbidden Broadway" at the Gaslight Club as well as her work at Drury Lane Oakbrook Terrace, Cross Currents Cabaret, and the Organic Lab Theatre.

Reservations are with a major credit card by calling the box office at (312) 634-0200.

The fifth annual Smith Symposium is sponsored by Sara Lee.

Stardancer comes alive at sunset

by DENNIS AND MARY O'BRIEN

On the first night out of port, Lakeland Newspapers' cruisers will gather for cocktails before dinner. It will be get-acquainted time and time to observe the daily event that mesmerizes passengers all over the ship—watching the sun go down at sea.

Once it reaches the horizon, that fiery ball sinks rather quickly into the endless Pacific. A soft night breeze comes up; an early star appears in the darkening sky; and then the great ship comes alive.

First there's dinner in the Windows of the World Dining Room, featuring continental cuisine prepared by award-winning chefs, with an after-dinner drink in the cozy atmosphere of Stanley's Pub, or in the splendid three-deck atrium piano bar.

Perhaps our Lakeland Newspapers group will opt for live entertainment—singers, dancers and comedians—at the Starlight Club or in the Sundown Lounge. There will be different exciting shows every night.

You don't have to be Irish to get lucky in Cassidy's Casino, you can boogie the night away in the Stardance Disco. There will be a late night buffet every night that is as delicious as it is beautiful to behold.

Unlike many cruise ships, the Stardancer's disco, cabaret and club decks are all located aft, while the cabins are forward, so that if a peaceful night's rest is all that you crave, you will be undisturbed by revelers.

You can retire to your cabin with a book you checked out of the ship library or stretch out to watch your own tv until sleep takes over.

After a day of sunshine, sea air and exercise, and a romantic moonlight stroll around the deck, Lakeland Newspapers passengers may find this the most delightful choice of all.

The block of cabins being held for Lakeland readers on the May 14 Stardancer Cruise to the Mexican Riviera must be given up on April 15. After that date, Admiral Cruises cannot guarantee that space will be available at the low Lakeland price for the May 14 sailing. Call (312) 948-9116 now to insure your reservation.

Mobile home owners to attend meeting

Northeast Lake County Mobile Home Owners Assn. members are invited to attend a general membership meeting at 2 p.m. on April 24 at Willow Lakes in Elgin.

Cruisers try luck

One doesn't have to Irish to get lucky at games in Cassidy's Casino aboard Lakeland Newspapers' May 14 Stardancer Cruise.

Camping in Hawaii

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

The sound of the surf will put you to sleep with the gentle trade winds offering nature's "air conditioning". You'll encounter few insects, no poison ivy and best of all, you'll not find a snake anywhere.

The Hawaiian Islands are perfect for just about any type of vacation. But for the adventurous, camping in Hawaii may just be the ultimate tenting experience.

Camping in Hawaii can be as rugged or as civilized as you please. For those who need some of the comforts of home, mobile campers are available on most islands and may be reserved through your travel agent.

Cabins are also available at several state parks. Some of my favorites are Hapuna Beach Park on the "Big Island". For $7 a night you get a screened A-frame overlooking the beach.

For something a little more comfortable, try Kahili Mountain Park on the island of Kauai. For about $25 a night you get a one bedroom cabin with private bathroom, kitchen and cooking utensils. Dishwashing service is even included.

Even Maui offers some bargain camping. Cabins are available in the island's prettiest park, Waianapanapa, for about $10 per person. (You don't have to be able to pronounce it to stay there). The cabins have bedding and kitchen facilities as well as an ocean view.

For the real back-packer, the islands offer many official and unofficial camp sites. Permits for camping at the state parks are free and allow up to seven days camping at each site. Unofficial camping is allowed at the more secluded beaches. Equipment may be rented on the islands.

One last tip. All the islands have a windward and leeward side. While the waterfalls and lush foliage are on the windward side, so is the rain. For a dry camping experience, stay on the leeward side.

Burns to join Mando

Music legend Jethro Burns and NPR's "A Prairie Home Companion" star Peter Ostroushko and the Mando Boys will appear in concert at the Woodstock Opera House at 8 p.m. on Saturday, June 11.

Burns first gained national prominence as the hilarious mandolin player in the very popular comedy/music duo "Homer and Jethro". Homer and Jethro frequently appeared on radio and television including the old "Barn Dance", the Grand Old Opry, and the Beverly Hillbillies. Accompanying Jethro in this concert will be renowned violinist, mandolinist, guitarist, Don Stiernberg.

Regarded as one of the world's greatest mandolinists, Burns more recently toured with the late Steve Goodman, including Goodman's concert at the Woodstock Opera House in 1984. Burns also played mandolin on many of Goodman's albums and videos.

Burns currently appears weekly on the syndicated television series "Hee Haw" as the mandolin player of the "Million Dollar Band" with Chet Atkins, Roy Clark, and Floyd Kramer.

In this show, Burns will perform solo and then join in with Peter Ostroushko and the Mando Boys for a set.

Ostroushko is also considered one of the world's premier mandolin and violin players. Ostroushko appeared weekly on NPR's "A Prairie Home Companion" with Garrison Keillor. During the last years on the "Prairie Home" broadcasts, Ostroushko formed a band with three other mandolin players called the Mando Boys. Their music is exceptional.

Ostroushko and the Mando Boys perform various styles of music, but they specialize in complex arrangements for mandolins and vocals of jazz/swing tunes and even classical music, such as Bach's fugue in G minor.

Ostroushko will also play solo and then join the Mando Boys with Jethro Burns. Tickets for this show are priced at $8 and are on sale at the Woodstock Opera House box office.

Notify local loon watchers

Dan Dugenske, a Loon Watcher from Antioch and a member of the Wisconsin Project Loon Watch from Ashland, Wis. announces that for all the people who watch the loons migrate through the Northern Lakes area, there will be a special program on Loons.

Dr. Paul Strong, a nationally recognized authority on loons will be presenting a program on loons at the College of Lake County, Grayslake Campus, Room: Blue Lecture Hall A 162, Wednesday, April 27 at 7 p.m.

Advanced registration is required due to limited seating. To register call the college at (312) 223-3615.

Dr. Strong is the biologist for the Sigurd Olson Environmental Inst. of Northland College in Ashland, Wis. and the coordinator of Wis. Project Loon Watch.

Common loons are large, fish-eating, diving birds that summer on many lakes in northern Wisconsin, Michigan, and Minnesota. The northern part of Illinois has not had nesting loons since the early part of this century, but as Dugenske has stated and recorded, the loons do stop on their way north for some time each year on many of the local lakes. There will be a fee of $1 for the program which the college will donate to Wisconsin Project Loon Watch. For any further information, please call the college or Dugenske at (312) 395-4000.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Tip: Look for outstanding opportunities.

(Mar. 21-Apr 19) You have a lot to gain despite your ings about a new, exciting, risky project. Romance heavily now; relationships will intensify.

(Apr. 20-May 20) Keep your options open. Refuse intimidated by a formidable opponent. You have a learn concerning the new relationships you're in.

(May 21-June 20) Many changes should begin ing with the beginning of next month, so prepare now.
 people figure heavily in your future. Be wise.

(June 21-Jul 20) Your employment is mighty shaky now. Analyze your actions before execution. A ber of the opposite sex, possibly Gemini, is important.

(Jul 21-Aug. 22) Much mystery and intrigue is sur-ounding your arrangements. Be alert, and break from tradi-to find the true meaning of what you are seeking.

(Aug. 23-Sept. 22) The long-awaited funds you need ere now. Use the wisdom of a family member concern-your new plan. Virgos will be willing to assist you.

(Sept. 23-Oct 22) Concentrate on your travel plans.
 don't be afraid to try and bridge language barriers. Sucfully analyze that new acquaintance as best you can.

(Oct. 23-Nov. 21) You've got the advantage of time your side. Use this to check your property and liquid ts. Remember your basic values for business success.

(Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Financially speaking, it will worse before it gets better, so be prepared for a bleak
 od. Free yourself of foolish obligations to friends.

(Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Commitments play key role now.
 shaky love relationship can be restored since you'll be more solid emotional ground. Pisces is soon featured.

(Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Study message from an Aries valuable information between the lines. Any delays can overcome and turned around. Use your intuition now.

(Feb. 19-Mar. 20) A better offer is on the way, so it it out. A significant change will occur on the efront. Be cautious in dealing with business associates.

you were born this week, you are a sensitive, intellec-al individual and are capable of making others laugh. You possess the skill to laugh at your own shortcomings, which uts others at ease instantly. Because your wardrobe and eneral appearance are so important to you, you are always eady to handle anything, which you often do! Capricorn and Libra people play key roles in your life.

Puzanne Powers (312) 526-5503

RTA needs billions to upgrade service

In order to restore its aged and deteriorating physical assets, and to extend service to needy and emerging transportation markets, the Regional Transportation Authority will need to spend some $6.1 billion by the year 2000, RTA Chairman Samuel K. Skinner said.

The Chicago region's public transportation system is not only one of the nation's largest, but also one of its oldest. Due to the legislative requirement that it pay for at least 50 per cent of operating costs from farebox revenues, it is also one of the country's most cost-effective systems.

However, the capital needs of RTA and its three service boards—Pace, Metra and the CTA—far exceed revenues available from present sources. Unavoidable underinvestment in the system has brought it now to a crucial juncture, Skinner said. While numerous engineering studies commissioned by RTA indicate that none of its $14.5 billion worth of physical assets are hazardous to passenger safety, much of the physical plant is at or beyond its useful life and in need of replacement or rehabilitation.

Almost as important as the needs of the existing infrastructure are those of RTA regional residents, who are not presently served by existing public mass transportation. Since 1970 Chicago's suburbs have contained the majority of the region's population and since 1980, the majority of its jobs, Skinner said. "Nonetheless, these growing areas are inadequately served by public transportation or, in some cases, not served at all," he added. "The RTA must continue to explore investment in these expanding markets to alleviate the bad and worsening effects of automobile traffic."

Sufficient funding to satisfy either of these needs is simply not available, the chairman noted. To meet the $6.1 billion (in 1987 dollars) need, RTA must find and spend $600 million per year over the course of its 10-year capital plan. This would more than double the amount of its present capital program, which is slightly more than $250 million and declining.

"After years of under-investing in its system, New York's transit service dramatically deteriorated to the point of collapse within the span of a few years," Skinner said. "The entire economy of its region suffered as a result. It is my deepest hope to prevent a New York crisis from occurring here. It is not going to be easy. We all have tough choices to make. We must begin to make them now."

Drug sales cause need for new law

State Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion), of the 31st Dist., is proposing stiffer penalties for "professional patients", persons who obtain prescription drugs with the intent of reselling them for profit.

"There are people making a substantial living this way," she said. "They go from doctor to doctor, complaining of bogus illnesses and obtaining prescriptions for drugs they don't really need. They have the prescriptions filled at pharmacies and then sell the medicines to drug abusers. The prices they charge make the business very lucrative."

Softball teams

The Lindenhurst Park District men's softball organizational meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Monday, April 18 at the Lindenhurst Village Hall. All teams interested in playing in the league must attend this meeting. Items of discussion will include league rules, fees and field usage. Individuals who are not on a team but would like to play, may also attend. League fees are $290 for resident teams and $320 for non-resident teams. For more league information, call the Lindenhurst Park Dist. at (312)356-6011.

Women's volleyball

The results of Womens Volleyball as of March 23 are as follows: Car X won over Stanton's Hobby Shop, 3-1. R.J.'s Eatory defeated Leech, Century 21, 2-1. M ? W Enterprises took the victory over Charlie's Angels, 2-1.

Medication that costs $30 from a pharmacy may have a street value of as much as $4,500."

Sen. Geo-Karis said her bill would make it a Class Four felony for the first offense of obtaining prescriptions fraudulently and reselling the drugs. Persons convicted on the charge could be fined up to $100,000 and sent to prison for one to three years. Present law limits fines to $5,000 for a first offense and jail terms to under one year.

A second or subsequent offense would become a Class Three felony, carrying a fine of up to $200,000 and a prison sentence of two to five years.

"It is estimated that in the Chicago area alone, there are resales of fraudulently obtained drugs with a street value of $2 million every year," Sen. Geo-Karis reported. "By increasing the penalties, we can clamp down on this kind of drug traffic."

The legislation has the support of the Dept. of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse and the Dept. of Registration and Education.

FROM THE OFFICE OF
DR. PAUL ABLER

SPRAINED ANKLES

A severely sprained ankle is common. And so is the widespread myth that applying an elastic bandage is a cure-all.

Severe ankle sprains often involve torn or overstretched ligaments, which require immediate attention by the podiatrist.

First, an X-ray examination is made to determine the nature and extent of injury. Then comes professional strapping to reduce motion, and decisions about applying a cast and arranging for physiotherapy for normal recovery. In some cases of severe ankle sprain, surgery may be necessary.

Reaching for an elastic bandage in the event of a severe ankle sprain is no substitute for professional care. On the contrary; delay in obtaining proper care delays recovery.

It's 'fowl' situation at Antioch Lower Grade

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

Spring has sprung! The sun's in the sky, and eggs are incubating at Antioch Grade School! Following a long tradition, second grade teachers Carla Beseman, Gloria Rowland, and Sandy White have among them seven incubators holding goose and chicken eggs.

Three of the incubators, which are recent purchases of the school's P.T.O., even measure the humidity and turn the eggs automatically. But there, even progress has its limitations.

"Turning the eggs by hand has always been part of the fun for the children," says White. But she's not ungrateful; the eggs in the other four incubators need plenty of turning by hand. "We haven't got our duck eggs yet; they will be coming soon, and the ducklings are always the most fun!"

The new arrivals are expected on April 22 and "will go back to the farm where they came from with their brothers, sisters, and cousins," says White.

This is a fine example of a "hands-on" learning experience which most of our non-farm children can really benefit from, and is indicative of the wonderful school programs we have here in our schools. The Antioch grade school is impacted as a whole as the teachers, parents, school staff, and the entire student body look forward to the hatchings and the little baby birds.

serious subject, it has many light moments," says Aileen Biel, PM'L spokesperson. "The cast is outstanding—even the cat named Sam."

News & Notes

Turning from natural life to a drama of natural life...

The PM'L Theatre of Antioch will present its second weekend of "The Diary of Ann Frank" with performances at 8 p.m., Friday, April 15, and Saturday, April 16, and a Sunday matinee at 2:30 p.m. on April 17.

"The audience thoroughly enjoyed the show. Even though it is a

Now in its second year—Apron Strings and Play Things, a support group for mothers of children ages six and under, has an on-going program each Tuesday from 9 to 11 a.m. at Faith Lutheran Church, 1275 S. Main St..

The emphasis on April 19 will be "Teaching Your Child to be Safe". The children have a program of their very own each week.

Potts contributes slam

Wauconda High School and College of Lake County graduate Jeff Potts was a major factor in Aurora University's baseball team's win over Elmhurst College.

Potts put the finishing touches on Aurora's 15-2 win with a grand slam home run in the fifth inning.

Potts has shown prowess at the plate so far for the Spartans, batting .400 and leading the club with 10 RBIs.

Aurora's trip to Mississippi was literally washed down the drain as rain cancelled the Spartans out of eight of 12 games.

The Spartans opened their season with a 10-4 win over Carthage and followed with a two-game split in Jackson, Miss. In the first game, AU topped Elmhurst 10-7 in eight innings before losing 4-3 to Millsaps College.

Aurora ended the trip with a 4-2 win over Elmhurst.

College notes

Mundelein High School graduate Angel Lendvay, a senior, is leading the Eastern Illinois University softball team with two home runs and 10 runs batted in. Lendvay has 15 hits in her first 58 at-bats, a .258 batting average. Lendvay is a senior outfielder. The Panthers lost 2-1 and 4-2 to Nebraska, ranked 13th nationally.

Chris Rauch, a former standout athlete from Grayslake Community High School, is a member of this spring's Augustana College track team. Rauch, a 1985 graduate of GCHS, is a junior participating in the decathlon for the Vikings. Augustana, under the direction of veteran Coach Paul Olsen, who is entering his 20th year at the helm, opened its 1988 season at Western Illinois University's All-Comers Meet in Macomb.

Plan fish sale

Lake County Soil and Water Conservation Dist. is planning its annual district fish sale. Species available include largemouth bass, hybrid sunfish, channel catfish, triploid white amur and fathead minnows. Pickup will be May 14 at the Lake County Farm Bureau parking lot. All fish will be bagged with oxygen for sale transfer. The bags will be of a convient size so as to be easily transported by car or pickup truck. White amur can only be stocked with an Illinois Dept. of Commerce permit and into sanctioned water bodies. To allow for permits to be secured, this species will be delivered at a later date. Call (312) 223-1056 for an order form. The deadline is May 6.

Set All-Star game

The 14th annual Illinois Coaches Assn. Shrine High School All-Star game will be played at Hancock Stadium on the campus of Illinois State University on Aug. 6. Through the first 12 years of the all-star game, more than $300,000 has been raised for the Shrine hospitals throughout the state.

A committee of 21 district chairman, headed by state football chairman John Elder of Alexis, met to select the 88 players for the game. The players are nominated by their respective coaches, then screened by the committee.

Head coaches will be Rich Zinanni of Kankakee Bishop McNamara High for the East squad and Tate Vroman of Taylor Ridge High for the West. The players will report to practice July 31 for the contest. Two North Suburban Conference coaches, Tom Myers of Lake Forest and Dale Christensen of Libertyville, were chosen as assistants.

First league game leaves mixed emotions

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

Sometimes we begin sporting events with preconceived notions.

Take, for example, minor league baseball. Before Saturday, the only exposure to the sport came through casually glancing at scores, watching AAA games during the strike, or listening to big-time baseball executives say the best way to save money is to eliminate the minor league system.

With that as a background, it was time to give minor league baseball a chance as the Kenosha Twins battled the South Bend White Sox in a Class A Midwest League contest. The Twins, defending league champs, have found out what many a big-league team has discovered: it's tough to repeat. The five-year old team lost to South Bend 5-4 Friday before being stomped on 10-4 Saturday.

One comes away with mixed emotions after witnessing the second game of the new year. The same mental errors, such as throwing to the work base, allowing the opposition to walk and steal bases and not converting on scoring chances will kill teams whether they are world champs or Class A.

And just like in the big leagues, everything is becoming more commercialized. Opening night was something called Hubbard Investments Homer Hanky Night. Saturday afternoon was Bradford Band and Orchestra Day.

Simmons Stadium, which had 603 seats filled for the second game against South Bend, will never be confused with Milwaukee County Stadium, Comiskey Park (no matter where it may be) or Wrigley Field (in the daylight or night). In baseball terms, though, the stadium is one of the better kept.

Players for this year's Twins team arrived in Kenosha Wednesday and played well, according to manager Ron Gardenhire, a former big leaguer. But the 10-4 loss in game two left the manager with that sinking feeling.

Overtime

"It was ugly today. We just came out with no enthusiasm," he said.

Rod McCray led the South Bend team as he reached base in four of five trips and stole two bases. McCray scored the visitors' first two runs as the game was tight for five innings.

Kenosha, which has 11 players back from last year's title team, halved the lead in the fourth. Dave Jacas singled and later scored on a single by designated hitter Bob Tinkey.

The White Sox knocked out Kenosha starter Steve Stowell in the sixth inning. Cesar Bernhardt reached on an error, stole second and went to third on the throwing error. Two singles then brought home two more runs, giving the visitors a 4-1 cushion.

Errors also played a part in the eighth when South Bend padded its lead. Ed Smith singled, Ray Payton doubled and both later scored on an error for a 6-1 lead.

Kenosha fans began to get involved in the game again in the eighth, when the Twins scored two more runs. But South Bend answered with five runs in the ninth and, just like the majors, it was

Carmel, Grant hope winning ways continue

It may only be a non-conference game, but the April 15 Grant-Carmel baseball contest in Mundelein could provide the winner with needed momentum.

Both teams are coming off similar weeks heading into the 4:30 p.m. game. The Corsairs and Bulldogs both split doubleheaders on Saturday before winning in non-league play on Monday.

The Corsairs have won two out-of-three games heading into the Grant game and may have found a pitching star in Shawn Chambers.

Chambers, in an artistic gem, allowed just three hits as the Corsairs had little trouble with Warren in a 5-1 win Friday.

"He was in total command," Carmel Coach Joe Pudlo said.

Defense also was a difference in the two teams. "I thought we would be a good defensive team, but we are not making the simple, routine plays," Warren Coach Ron Shelton said.

Following the win over Warren, Carmel lost a 10-8 slugfest to Stevenson before beating the Patriots 4-1 in the second game. In the opener, Carmel led 1-0 after one, but nine Stevenson runs in the third inning put the Corsairs behind. Carmel tried to rally, scoring six runs in the last two innings, but came up short.

Carmel clubbed Lake Forest 15-5 on Monday.

For Grant, the Carmel game represents a chance to get closer to .500. The Bulldogs, after splitting with McHenry on Saturday, downed Wauconda 7-3 in a Northwest Suburban Conference clash on Monday. The win evened the Grant league record at 1-1.

time for the home team's fans to go home early.

The game was played in big-time hours, three hours and 15 minutes - good enough for a real White Sox game.

Conclusion: a mixed bag but something definitely worth a second look.

Although the basketball season is long gone now, it's time for the all-star teams to be announced. And Warren Twp. High, which had the most successful of any combined boys and girls teams in the county, is reaping benefits. Girls Coach Bruce Campbell and boys mentor Darryl Bader both won Coaches-of-the-Year honors from their peers. The duo, both quiet and unassuming but with a knack for getting the job done, combined for more than 50 victories this season. Warren's girls won the North Suburban Conference title en route to the Elite Eight in a superb 27-4 season. Warren's boys were co-NSC champs and made the Sweet Sixteen. Also, Crystal Cobb was chosen top alternate for the north girls basketball team for an all-star game in June.

It didn't take long for area pitchers to notch the first no-hitters of the season. On Saturday, Mundelein's Susan Musselwhite fired a gem in a 11-0 win over Johnsburg while Lake Zurich's Laura Hoeft and Stacy Pohlman combined for the feat in a 13-1 win over Palatine.

On the other side of the coin, Wauconda will long remember Saturday as the day its baseball team scored 29 runs in a doubleheader sweep of Richmond-Burton.

Pine Meadow improves facilities for new season

Joe and Frank Jemsek, proprietors of nine top public golf courses in the Chicago area, are ready and eager for the new golf season. They have continued their program of remodeling and expansion of both clubhouses and courses to update their facilities and keep first rate gold and service before the public.

The Jemseks have announced changes in the schedule for their courses, including Pine Meadow Golf Club in Mundelein.

Voted the best new public course in 1986 by Golf Digest Magazine, the club has added cart paths to completely surround the course and has expanded the clubhouse by 30 feet. There will be a few high school matches at the course as well as the Golf Digest's usual events for seniors, juniors, the club championship and husband and wife championship. Teaching professionals will be Sandy Underwood, Bill Erfurth and Rick Brandes.

Other Jemsek golf courses in the Chicagoland area include: Cog Hill Golf Club in Lemont; Glenwoodie Golf Club in Glenwood; St. Andrews Golf Club in West Chicago and Fresh Meadow Golf Club in Hillside.

And they're off

Runners hope to get start during running of University Health Sciences - The Chicago Medical School's fitness footrace last year. This spring's event will be held on May 1. Proceeds will go to Lambs farm in Libertyville.

Coaches win accolades

Warren Twp. High School may have scored a feat few schools have ever achieved.

Both boys basketball Coach Darrel Bader and girls basketball Coach Bruce Campbell were selected as coach of the year in their respective districts by Illinois Basketball Coaches Assn.

Campbell guided the Blue Devils to their first-ever Elite Eight appearance with 27-4 overall record. Warren won its own regional, Waukegan East Sectional and Round Lake supersectional. The Blue Devils were North Suburban Conference champions, winning 17 of 18 games. Warren was eliminated by Marshall 55-38 in the first quarterfinal game. Campbell is 135-52 in eight years at Warren.

Also, junior Crystal Cobb was named as the top alternate on the North All-Star team. The game, featuring some of the best girls basketball players in Illinois, will be played June 25 in East Peoria.

Derril Kipp, coach of state champion Maine West, was named Class AA coach of the year.

Warren's boys team was tri-champions in the NSC with Lake Forest and Zion-Benton as all three teams finished with 13-5 records.

Mundelein bowlers collect awards

The Lake County Women's Bowling Assn. will be handing out season awards at its annual meeting on April 19. The meeting will be at 8 p.m. at Libertyville Twp. office with President Gert Emrick presiding.

March 20 was the ending day for the league's annual tournament. Secretary Mary Gleason reports the following winners: Party Animals, a team from Northbrook, was the team handicap winner with a total of 3,136. Crystaleers, a team from Mundelein, was the scratch team winner with 2,589. Low to cash in the team event was 2,887.

Sue Hastings and Patricia Adams, from Zion, were the doubles handicap winners with 1,320. Hastings rolled her first 600 series, a 611. The high scratch doubles winners were a mother-daughter duo, Karen and Lana Lavaris, from Mundelein, with an 1,184. Daughter Lana rolled a 656 series. Low to cash in the doubles event was 1,181.

Barbara Christensen was both the scratch and handicap winner in singles with a 644 scratch and 740 with her handicap. Low to cash in the singles event was a 606.

Hastings was the handicap winner in all events with a 2,029. The high scratch went to

Wauconda listens, rips Richmond's pitchers for 29 run day

Wauconda's baseball team took some sage advice from its coach following a 2-0 loss to Zion-Benton last week.

"We talked about mental things and came out ready to hit," Wauconda Coach Jim Van Fleet said.

And did they ever hit. Richmond-Burton's Rockets are probably still wondering what was that team that pounded out 29 runs on one day and chalked up 31 hits in winning a doubleheader 15-5 and 14-4. Was it the 1927 Yankees? The "Big Red Machine" of the 1970s?

No, just a determined group of Bulldogs not to let the two hit performance against the ZeeBees become habit.

In the first game, Wauconda actually trailed early. The Rockets led 2-1 in the second. Wauconda gained a tie in their half and both teams scored once in the third. Wauconda then blew the game open by outscoring the visitors 11-2 in the next three innings.

Dan Richards led the 16-hit barrage with four hits in five at-bats. Tim Scheider also had a perfect day, hitting safely in both at-bats. Jamee Sensibaugh was three-for-three.

Chris Wilson was the winning pitcher and Larry Mask picked up a save. Wilson struck out six and walked five.

In the second game, the Bulldogs trailed early again as Richmond scored twice in its first at bat. But Wauconda tied the game, and scored five runs over the next two innings to gain a 7-3 lead.

Winning pitcher Rick Dixon went all the way in the second game in the 14-4 romp.

The Bulldogs not only were an impressive team offensively, but played solid defense as well. Richmond committed 10 errors for the two games while the Bulldogs combined for five miscues.

Wauconda, 2-2-1

Strong start

Mundelein's tennis team began the 1988 season with a 3-2 non-conference win at Grayslake. The match came down to the second doubles position, and Mundelein's Chuck Beaske-Greg Russ beat Grayslake's Prakash Rajamani-Derek Faurbo 6-2, 6-2.

Chicago Medical School planing family race fun

The University of Health Sciences-The Chicago Medical School has announced that its seventh annual fitness footrace will be held on Sunday, May 1.

All the proceeds will once again go to Lambs Farm in Libertyville. The race will begin at 9 a.m.

The race, traditionally a freshmen class project in conjunction with the student council, attempts to bring together all segments of the local and Lake County community in a fun-filled day which includes a picnic, musical entertainment and community fitness.

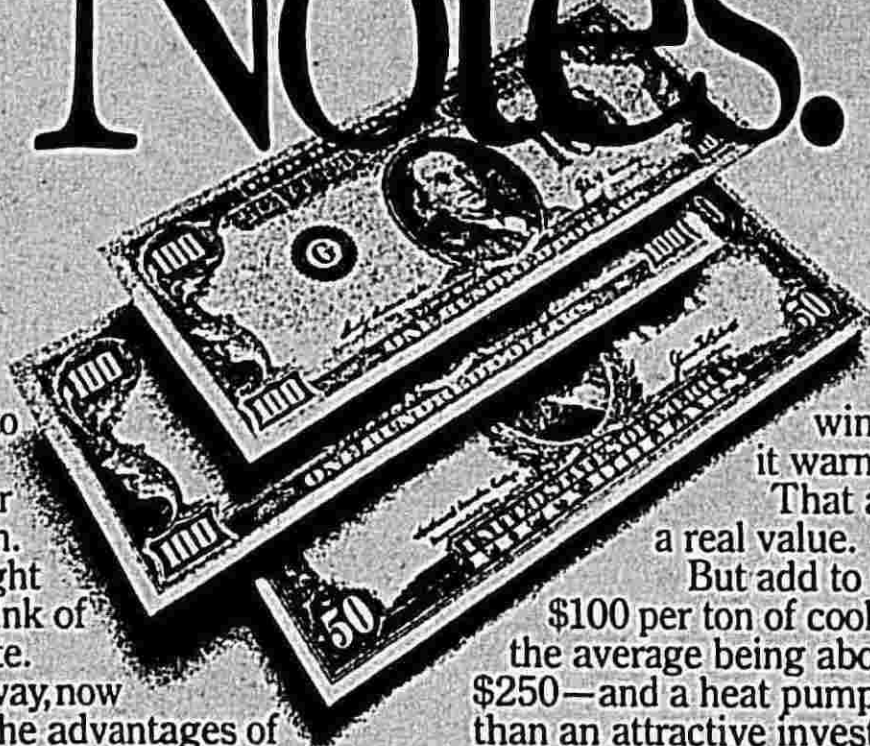

According to Erik Sieversten, a freshman at CMS and coordinator of this year's race, prizes will be awarded in the five different male and female age divisions, including trophies for first, second and third place finishers. All participants and staff will receive a specially designed t-shirt for their involvement. Sieversten indicates he hopes to draw between 400 and 500 people as runners.

The 10 kilometer (6.2 mile) course, which is The Athletic Congress certified, encompasses Rte. 137 and passes by the Veterans Admin. Hospital, winding around into North Chicago and Lake Bluff. Fee for pre-registration entrants is $8 prior to April 28 and $10 thereafter, including the day of the race. "This is intended to be a family-oriented event, designed to stress the importance of fitness but also to point the importance of community goodwill. Our age division will include male and female 18 and under; 19-29; 30-39; 40-49 and 50 and above."

Sieversten says that entry forms may be obtained through the office of the student affairs at Chicago Medical School, (312) 578-3294 or at Lambs Farm at (312) 362-4636.

Buy A Heat Pump And Receive 3 Thank-You Notes.

We like to think of it as a token of our appreciation.

You might prefer to think of it as a rebate.

Either way, now you'll find the advantages of buying a heat pump are almost as great as the advantages of owning one.

After all, a heat pump is the most energy-efficient heating and cooling system available. Designed to work like a central air conditioner in the summer, keeping your home cool.

And work with your furnace in the winter, keeping it warm.

That alone makes it a real value.

But add to that a rebate of $100 per ton of cooling capacity—the average being about 2½ tons, or $250—and a heat pump becomes more than an attractive investment.

It becomes an affordable way to keep your home comfortable, all year long.

Which is something you'll be thankful for.

Mustangs hoping offense continues in NSC opener

Mundelein's baseball team is hoping offensive strength it has shown in the non-conference portion of the season will carry over into North Suburban Conference play.

The Mustangs open the NSC portion of their schedule April 16 with a doubleheader at Lake Forest. Senior righthander Dave Smith, who won two games last week, is expected to start the first game and either Rob Porcelius or Jeff Wheeler.

The Mustangs are coming off a successful week, winning three in a row for a 3-1 start.

"We have been playing pretty good ball and hitting well throughout the whole lineup," Mundelein Coach Fred Picket said.

Smith was the winning pitcher in a 3-1 win over Jacobs and a 5-3 win over Lake Zurich in non-league play. For the two games, Smith registered 18 strikeouts.

Against Jacobs, Smith struck out 11 Golden Eagles batters and did not surrender a walk. "He mixed up his pitches well," Picket said of the performance.

Against the Bears on Saturday, Smith fired a two-hitter, striking out nine and walking five.

And in between those two performances, Wheeler and Porcelius teamed up for a 10-8 victory at Crystal Lake Central against the Tigers.

"With Wheeler and Porcelius, we might have more balance on the pitching staff," Picket said.

The offense has been on target, too.

Against Jacobs, Wheeler had two hits, Smith a double and Porcelius contributed two Runs-Batted-In singles.

In the CLC game, the Mustangs jumped off to a 10-2 lead by scoring five in the second, two in the second and three in the fourth innings.

Wheeler was the winning pitcher but when the Tigers mounted a six-run threat in the sixth, catcher Porcelius became pitcher Porcelius and the senior came up with a save.

Tony Veechie, a senior, had two hits and five of his team's 10 RBIs. Jim Casper, a leftfielder, had three hits a pair of RBIs.

Porcelius had two hits of the 13-hit attack, Jeff Krebbs had two hits and Smith had three hits including two RBIs.

Mark Mathews delivered the key blow against the Bears.

With Mundelein ahead 2-0 in the third inning, Mathews doubled the lead to 4-0 with a home run. Lake Zurich scored two in the fifth.

Scott Krezeminski was the losing pitcher for Lake Zurich.

After the Lake Forest game, the Mustangs host Antioch April 19 in NSC action.
